Call Woman Witness In Boyle Probe

Young Bookkeeper's Story of Concealed Payments Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—Senators called a young woman witness today to tell whether she ever had orders to conceal payments to William M. Boyle, Jr., democratic national committee chairman.

Senator Nixon (R-Calif) said she would be asked about what he termed "her orders to help cover up a fishy looking deal."

The witness is Miss Janet Boone, 26, under subpoena to tell the Senate investigations subcommittee of her role in recording payments which American Lithofold Corp., a St. Louis printing firm, made to Boyle in 1949.

Miss Boone is the last scheduled witness in the inquiry. But Nixon, a member of the group, told a reporter "this case is a long way from being closed."

Hints New Angle

He said a study of Boyle's income tax returns and bank account records for 1949 and 1950, now under way, "already has made it very clear that we need testimony from two additional witnesses whom I shall not now name, and there may be others."

Miss Boone is among persons named by Theodore Link, a reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, in telling about his preparation of stories declaring that Boyle accepted $8,000 from Lithofold at a time when it was negotiating government loans. Link declined last week to name a "Mr. X" and "Mr. Y." whom he called his major sources of information.

Boyle has denied he got the $8,000, as have Lithofold officials. He testified he received $1,250 as a retainer fee not related to $565,000 of loans, since repaid, which the company got from the RFC. Boyle acknowledged arranging a meeting between Lithofold negotiators and the then RFC chairman (Harley Hise, but denied he tried to influence RFC.

Talked To Reporter

Link said Miss Boone told him she had orders as a bookkeeper for Lithofold to keep "face down" on her desk all records concerning payments to Boyle and Max Siskin, the Democratic chairman's former law associate.

Tomorrow the committee will begin hearings on relations between RFC and Guy G. Gabrielson, Republican national chairman.

Gabrielson has been criticized by some Republican lawmakers who insist he should resign because of his acknowledged acceptance of $15,000 a year salary and $10,000 attorney's fees from Carthage - Hydrocol, Inc., which obtained RFC loans of $18,500,000. It has started repayment after Gabrielson vainly negotiated with RFC for a delay.

List Support Prices For Corn, Soybeans

Support prices for corn and soybeans were announced today by Frank M. Montgomery, chairman of the Marion County Production Marketing Administration.

Corn prices set by the federal government as of Oct. 1 were placed at 90 percent of parity or $1.62 a bushel. Support price for No 3 soybeans was set at $2.45.

Loans or purchase agreements will be available under the corn support price until June 1, 1952 while the soybean loans will be available until Jan. 31. The crops must be farm stored or stored at approved elevators before purchase agreements or loans will be made.

Mr. Montgomery said hay seed loans also are available through the P.M.A. For further information, farmers should call at the new office at 194 South Main street just south of the Postoffice.

Comes Out Flatly Against President

Byrnes Leads Dixiecrats' Beat-Truman Movement

GATLINBURG, Tenn., Oct. 3—(AP)—A beat-Truman movement among some Southern Democrats got new impetus today from James F. Byrnes, South Carolina's Democratic governor.

Byrnes, who served as President Truman's secretary of state, was the first of Southern Democratic leaders to put on a flat basis his opposition to the President's renomination.

The former "assistant president" under President Roosevelt, Supreme Court justice and senator left no doubt that if Mr. Truman is his party's nominee next July he will face a Dixie revolt handled by experts intent on axing the administration politically south of the Mason and Dixon line.

A similar move in 1948 failed despite a four-state defection. But Byrnes and others are just as confident now that Mr. Truman will not be the next president as they are confused about the man who may be his successor.

Meanwhile, Gov. Earl Warren of California, a Republican, continued to play close to his vest any ambitions he may have to be a compromise candidate — as between Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio — for the 1952 Republican presidential nominee.

Warren, who heads a roundtable discussion today on law enforcement problems at the 43rd annual governors' conference here, kept mum about his future political plans.

The only concrete sign that came out of the Warren camp was a certain amount of skepticism toward Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the 1944 and 1948 G.O.P. presidential nominee, as a leader of the movement to draft Gen. Eisenhower for the nomination.

Warren's friends made it clear they think Dewey could be prevailed upon—under certain conditions to accept a third nomination despite assertions by the New Yorker's confidantes that this will never happen. Dewey himself said he would not make a third White House bid.

Wants To See

Like some others, Warren apparently is waiting to see whether there is any sign from Eisenhower of his availability within the next two or three months. The California governor, the 1948 vice presidential nominee, apparently will decide then whether to go outside of his home state in his bid for support for the 1952 presidential nomination.

Warren could be counted on to deny California's heavy vote to the Eisenhower backers in the pre-convention maneuvering, and this might have a direct effect on what the Southern Democrats do.

The Dixie contingent, headed here by Byrnes, has made no special secret of the fact it believes Eisenhower could carry some vital southern states if he were the Republican nominee.

For that reason, they are waiting before deciding whether they are going to go beyond opposition to the Civil Rights program at next year's Democratic convention and organize an independent movement under a Democratic label of some kind to defeat Mr. Truman or a personally-picked choice as a nominee.

Children's Return Of Wallet Foiled By Girl's Mother

A tale of two trusting boys and a girl led astray by the girl's mother was told today by Marion police.

The boys found a man's wallet in a grocery store Monday and while they were looking at it a 10-year-old girl, who was passing by, asked to see it. They showed it to her and she said she knew the owner and would give him the wallet on her way home.

They gave it to her but instead of taking it directly to the owner, the girl took it home and gave it to her mother. Her mother removed $30 from the wallet, told her daughter not to say anything to her father, and burned it.

The disappearance of the wallet was reported to police and Patrolman Virgil Campbell traced it to the girl's mother. Under questioning the woman admitted taking the money and burning the wallet. She returned the money to the owner.

Personal papers in the wallet cannot be replaced, police said. No legal action is planned against the woman and her daughter, police said, since it was their first offense. They will, however, be given an official warning, police said.

KING GAINING

LONDON, Oct. 3—(AP)—King George's doctors reported today his condition continues to improve after a lung operation. A medical bulletin said: "After another good night the king's condition shows further improvement."

FIND 5 BODIES

TOKYO, Oct.3 — (AP) — A ground search party found the bodies of five crewmen in the wreckage of a C-119 transport on a 5,100-foot peak 60 miles south of Tokyo. Far East Air Forces Headquarters said today. The "Flying Boxcar" had been missing since Sept. 27. Names of the five have not been released.

Iranians Take Over Refinery

Humiliated British Pull Out of Abadan

ABADAN, IRAN, Oct. 3—(AP)—The British pulled out of Abadan today to give Iran full possession of the world's greatest refinery.

The British cruiser Mauritius with some 275 Anglo-Arabian oil company employes, sailed at the Shatt-El-Arab River to Basra, Iraq, early this afternoon.

From Basra, the evacuees are to be flown back to Britain.

The Mauritius was accompanied by five AIOC sea-going tugs, one ahead and four behind.

Forty other AIOC employes left by plane this morning.

The British departure came after a month of Iranian pressure.

It was a sad and solemn affair.

"Most Humiliating"

The evacuees privately said this was one of Britain's most humiliating moments. It was, indeed, in contrast to the proud days when the roar of the British lion made the world take notice.

That was the way it was when the British came to Iran in the early years of this century.

Iran now lays claim to its riches which the country had granted to Britain under a royalty agreement which was to have lasted until 1993.

There was no noticeable changover here today.

Since last June, when they first appeared on the scene, Iranian oil company officials have been gradually taking over the fields and refinery complexes step by step.

They moved into some British homes as more and more AIOC employes left.

Today's departure was orderly, with only a few Iranian police and soldiers on the streets.

Otherwise there was little activity in this oil town.

The refinery remained shut down. Storage tanks are nearly filled.

K. B. Ross, who ran the refinery for the AIOC, told a reporter that the Iranian National Oil Co. probably can run the refinery—but only the less complicated equipment producing products such as kerosene, furnace oil and Diesel oil.

He thought they would have trouble maintaining the machinery in good order. He said that the big international companies, which control most of the available tankers would not carry oil from Abadan under present conditions.

Iranian officials insist that they can run the refinery and will get more help if necessary. Iran has announced several. The departing British were given

Jessup, Under Oath, Swears Charges False

Truman Choice For U.N. Delegate Strikes Back at McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Oct 3—(AP)—Ambassador Philip C. Jessup swore today that a charge by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) "that I was affiliated with six Communist fronts is false."

Jessup made the statement to a Senate foreign relations subcommittee considering his nomination by President Truman to be a United Nations delegate. His testimony was in reply to charges by McCarthy that Jessup has "followed all the twists and turns of the Communist line."

Last night the subcommittee made public a finding by the Civil Service loyalty review board that there is "no reasonable doubt" as to Jessup's loyalty.

McCarthy raised some question about the finding but was promptly contradicted by Hirman Bingham, chairman of the loyalty board.

Repeats Denial

Testifying under oath, Jessup denied—as he did last year—McCarthy's accusation that he had "an unusual affinity for Communist causes." The ambassador-at-large, a top advisor to Secretary of State Acheson, also declared:

"I will submit evidence which will demonstrate . . .that I have not been a follower of the Communist party line."

He added:

"I will introduce evidence that

Crestline Burn Victims In Fight for Life

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—(UP)—Two Crestline youngsters, critically burned in an accident near their home, battled for their lives in Children's Hospital today.

Hospital attendants said the condition of seven-year-old Joe Rice Jr., and Melvin Eckert, 8, was "good as could be expected" in view of burns over their entire bodies.

Just what caused the fire that burned the youngsters Monday seemed to be a mystery. The best explanation seemed to be that one of the boys had tossed a firecracker into a gas-filled sewer near Stink Creek at Crestline, a town of 5,000 persons.

But the boys' anxious parents pointed out that oil in the stream from nearby filling stations and a Diesel shop of the Pennsylvania

Developments In Medicine Discussed

Northwestern Ohio Doctors Convene In Marion for Program

Talks and panel discussions on developments in research in medicine and surgery and election of officers for the coming year made up the program for the one-day meeting of the Northwestern Ohio Medical Association held yesterday at the Marion Country Club.

Dr. Floyd Yeager, association president, presided for the meeting and hosts for the day were members of the Marion Academy of Medicine. Speakers were from the staff of Western Reserve University School of Medicine and included outstanding men in the medical profession. An estimated 50 doctors attended the meeting.

Meeting at the same time at the First Evangelical and Reformed Church were members of the Third District Woman's Auxiliary of the Ohio State Medical Association of which Mrs. James Greetham is president.

Program Highlights

Highlighting the Medical Association's afternoon program was a talk on "Problems to the Community of Unexplained Deaths," by Dr. Alan R. Moritz, professor and director of pathology at the University Hospitals. Defining "unexplained deaths" as "sudden, unexpected deaths," Dr. Moritz stated that 10 to 15 percent of all deaths can be so classified.

In discussing the unexplained deaths in infants and children he disclaimed the beliefs, commonly shared by doctors, that children die of suffocation or enlarged thymus glands. He stated that infants or children never die of suffocation in their cribs but in very rare instances they die of

Plan $50 Million Plant Expansion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Co. is planning "upwards of $50,000,000 in addition to its plant at Newark, O., Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio) said today.

The company has asked the National Production Authority (NPA) for certificates of necessity to build two additions to the plant, McGreggor said in a statement. The firm also has applied for allocations of materials to build these additions.

"It has been determined that there is a bottleneck in the forging of the aluminum and (a) $20,000,000 improvement would be to relieve that bottleneck," McGregor said. "Another addition of approximately $30,000,000 would be for other purposes which cannot be disclosed at this time."

Holds Secret Parley Before Departure

Bradley Off For Home, Big Offensive Rumored

TOKYO, Oct. 3—(AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley left Tokyo today after a shortened visit that included a two-day tour of the Korean battle front.

Shortly before his departure for Washington the chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff held a secret conference with top American military leaders here amid fading hopes of a negotiated truce in Korea.

The meeting with Army, Air and Navy commanders was presumed to be the most significant session Bradley held in his six-day visit.

Reveals Little

Bradley commented only:

"It was a very interesting trip—very helpful to us."

His plane left at 7.20 a.m. (5:20 a.m. EST). Bradley was accompanied by his wife and Charles Bohlen, U. S. State Department expert on Russia.

War clouds grew darker over Korea.

For the seventh day Red leaders ignored a United Nations proposal to reopen armistice talks at a new site in-no-man's-land.

Tokyo sources said the Reds have waited too long to make a favorable reply to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's suggestion to hold sessions near Songhyon, about six miles from Red-controlled Kaesong, the former site.

These sources said they believe truce talks actually are broken off. There has been no meeting since Aug. 22.

Shortly before Bradley's departure and after his high level conference Ridgway's headquarters announced a "partial blackout" of news from Korea. This usually is an indication of major military developments.

Ever since it first was announced that Bradley would "survey the entire situation" in this command speculation has been rife that the U. S. top military boss was bringing plans for new and bigger operations. Observers suggested these would be designed to impress the Reds with a realization that they were certain to lose the Korean war.

Strategy Unclear

One thing that has puzzled observers most is why the Allies failed to drive forward on the western front in an effort to encompass Kaesong. The Reds insist that is the logical place to resume armistice talks.

One of the heaviest Allied artillery barrages of the war today reached within 12 miles of Kaesong.

United Nations military commanders repeatedly have emphasized that Allied military might has long been ready to take over with gunpowder if the Communists decided they didn't want to talk truce again.

Bradley himself said the U.N. is prepared to bring the Korean war to a successful conclusion if talk fails.

Army Chief On Inspection Trip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, left last night on an inspection trip to Europe and the Far East war zone.

The Defense Department, announcing this today, said that Collins will attend troop maneuvers in Germany and make "a routine inspection of troops and United States military missions."

Crawford Jury Recessed Today

To Reconvene Monday In Home Inquiry

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Oct. 3—Grand jury hearings were recessed at the end of the third day today in the investigation of mistreatment charges at the Crawford County home for the aged.

The jury was recessed by Prosecutor Leo Scanlin who said he planned more investigation before the jury returned to session Monday.

Jurors visited the home yesterday. Several witnesses have been called before the jury in connection with the home investigation, court attaches reported.

The investigation has resulted in the dismissal of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dinkle of Bucyrus, superintendent and matron at the home for the past 11 years, and the ouster of Howard Huneke, a male attendant. The Dinkels were charged with 29 acts of mistreatment and mismanagement by county commissioners while Huneke was dismissed after he admitted mistreatment of an inmate.

The Dinkels denied the charges against them and have appealed their ousters to the state civil service commission in Columbus. They have been succeeded by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ulmer of near Bucyrus.

Prosecutor Scanlon said a hearing on the Dinkels' appeal probably will be held here sometime this month by the commission.

Gen. Drum, Aide To Pershing, Dies

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, who was chief of staff to Gen. John J. Pershing in World War I, died today. He was 72.

Drum died at his desk in his office in the Empire State building at 10.10 a.m., apparently of a heart ailment.

He was president of Empire State, Inc.

After retiring from the Army, Drum served for several years as commanding general of the New York National Guard.

He was elected in 1944 to succeed the late Alfred E. Smith as president of the corporation that operates the world's tallest building. His salary was reported to be $40,000 a year.

Planes Blast Jammed Red Supply Lines

Partial Blackout Clamped on News From Korean Fronts

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 3—(AP)—A thunderous United Nations artillery barrage roared along the western front today while war planes tried to break up the biggest Red supply effort since the last Communist offensive.

Red troops who held Allied infantrymen to no gains yesterday pressed two battalion-sized probing attacks of their own today.

Over northern Korea twelve F-80 Shooting Stars, among America's slowest jets, were credited with probably destroying two Red MIG-15s in a brief battle with a dozen fast red-nosed jets. The F80s caught the Reds by surprise as the MIGS flew to attack another flight of American planes.

(A "partial blackout", frequently a sign of an impending offensive by either the Reds or Allies, was clamped on news from the war fronts Wednesday.

(The tightened censorship was announced by Tokyo headquarters of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme U.N. commander. There was no explanation.

(The partial blackout of news was imposed until further notice.

(While there were indications of a possible impending Red offensive, a broad United Nations drive could not be ruled out. The news blackout recalled a Red Chinese broadcast Saturday asserting the Allies were preparing to make simultaneous amphibious landings on both coasts of North Korea. The Allied command has not commented on this broadcast.)

Huge Buildup Spotted

The Far East Air Forces (F.E.A.F.) noted significantly that pilots spotted 4,355 Red trucks on the highways Tuesday night—"the greatest number in a single night since . . . the Communists' last abortive offensive" in mid-May.

Warships and night-raiding planes concentrated on breaking up this near record volume of supplies being rushed toward the front. An F.E.A.F. communique said Red trucks "suffered very heavy losses."

The Allied artillery barrage on the western front was one of the heaviest of the Korean war.

Gunfire reached to within 12 miles of Kaesong site of disrupted truce talks which the Reds broke off 42 days ago.

Shells hit the Reds in ridges running northeast from Korangpo. The town is 12 miles east of Kaesong just south of the 38th Parallel, and 28 miles northwest of Seoul.

Censorship prevented correspondents from pinpointing the full extent of the artillery fire.

The barrage opened up Tuesday night after a day in which the Reds halted United Nations attacks in the west, recaptured a towering peak in the east, and probed Allied positions in the center.

They blanketed Red positions about the time Communists usually launch their night assaults. The steady pounding continued Wednesday.

A general headquarters communique from Tokyo reported an estimated Red battalion, close to 1,000 men, launched a probing attack in the west-central sector and was still attacking at dawn Wednesday.

Allied Attack Halted

Front line dispatches reported the Reds held off a three-pronged Allied assault in this sector west of Chorwon. U. N. tanks and artillery supported the attack.

Allied infantrymen using flame throwers moved in to scorch the Chinese bunkers, Associated Press correspondent George McArthur reported.

Another assault from the south was stalled just below the crest. Opposing infantrymen were within hand grenade range of each other, McArthur said.

On the fringe of the barrage sector British Commonwealth troops fought a series of sharp hand-to-hand actions with Chinese.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters reported Red troops launched a battalion-sized attack late Tuesday night in the east central sector. The fight continued into Wednesday.

The attack, which followed a

Ministers Hear Program On Scouting

Tiffin Pastor Speaks; God and Country Award Explained

Twenty-six ministers attended a Scouting program Monday at Camp Owens held in connection with the regular monthly meeting of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

Featured speaker was Dr. Howard N. Porterfield, pastor of the Ebenezer E.U.B. Church at Tiffin. His topic was "Scouting and the Church."

The program began at 9:30 a.m and continued until noon. A luncheon was served at the camp by the Harding Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. Following the luncheon a Scouting program was presented in which the God and Country Scouting award was explained by C. G. Wheeldon, Scout executive.

Rev. B. D. Hughes of Mt. Gilead presided for the meeting Rev. Hughes is chairman of the Protestant Scout Committee of the Harding Area Council. Program chairman was Rev. L. R. Kennard of Green Camp. Rev. Ashley G. Booth is president of the Ministerial Association.

The God and Country award is given Scouts who combine Scout and church work. The Scout must do work for the church, give to it, learn its creeds and history, and attend church regularly. He must also work for the betterment of the community in which he lives, Mr. Wheeldon said.

Registrations Received For Talent Contest

Registrations for the talent contest to be staged during the West Towne Jubilee Oct 22-23 are now being accepted.

Each child participating in the contest will receive a gift and the winner will receive a $70 bicycle, either boy's or girl's. Second prize will be a record player and third prize a guitar.

Merchants of the West Center street area from Garden street to Park boulevard are sponsoring the jubilee, designed to establish the name West Towne for the area and to promote shopping there.

Today's Birthday

FULLER WARREN, born Oct. 3, 1905 at Blountstown, Fla., son of a lawyer.

Governor of Florida and recently center of a controversy with the Kefauver Senate crime investigating committee, Warren won his first elective office, state representative, while still a law student.

He was sponsored in the University of Flor da by a judge who encouraged him in his ambition to become governor.

Social Security Films Shown Grange

Karl G. Saenger and G. L. Schlueter of the Marion Social Security Administration office showed movies and explained the purpose and beneftis of social security at a meeting of Montgomery Grange Sept 25. A group discussion followed.

Mrs Oscar Murphy reported on the lunch stand which the Grange home economics committee operated for the Angus Cattle Sale at the county fairgrounds Sept. 21.

Miss Lila Harriman, lecturer, announced that the Meeker Homemakers 4-H Club will present a play at the next meeting, Oct. 9 Booster Night will be observed and the faculties of Meeker and New Bloomington schools have been invited to attend the open meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson McKelvey and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Courtad are in charge of serving refreshments.

C. of C. Plans Member Drive

Semi-annual Event Slated Oct. 9

The Marion Chamber of Commerce will hold its semi-annual drive for new members Oct. 9. The drive begins with a breakfast at 8 a.m. at Hotel Harding and continues throughout the day. Refreshments are to be served at 4 p.m. Prizes will be awarded those bringing in the most new members.

The drive is an annual affair and is conducted by officers of the chamber. Jack Danner is chairman of the membership drive.

Activities engaged in by the Chamber of Commerce include the following: attracting new industry to Marion; helping existing industry with expansion programs; trying to get diversified industries; promoting Dollar Days sales; promoting spring sales events and Easter Egg hunts; promoting Wednesday morning shopping; directing solicitation control; promoting distributive education program; directing the retail sales institute; guiding the Christmas programs; promoting agricultural activities; and setting up fire prevention programs.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Martel Grange Inspection Held

Martel Grange was inspected by Ralph Williams and received a grade of 89½ at a meeting Sept. 25. Mr. Williams substituted for county Deputy E. A. Williams who was unable to be present. It was announced that an offering taken at the Sept. 11 meeting for flood relief in Kansas amounted to $35.

Miss Doris Volrath was in charge of the lecture hour. Taking part in the program were Penny and Thomas Hayes, Mrs. Clyde Logan, Dixie Middaugh, Earle Douce, Shirley Pangborn, Kenneth Mulvaine, and the men's chorus.

Mrs. Richard Baldinger conducted contests and refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph Nogle, Mrs. Mary Middaugh, and Mrs. LaVerne Sharrock.

'Achievement night' for the 4-H clubs of the community and Booster Night will be observed at the next meeting, Oct. 9.

People of the Balearic Islands were so adept with the slingshot that many of them were hired by the armies of Carthage and Rome.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Advertising Experts, Propaganda Amateurs

Last week Stewart Alsop, writing from Paris, reiterated what we should all now know—but don't. The Russian propaganda line—the Russians want nothing but peace—has bitten into the minds of Europeans far more deeply than we believe possible. It's a great word, an over-powering slogan and a radiant hope the Russians have got hold of—peace. The fact that we Americans don't believe a word of it doesn't do much to countermand it in the minds of people overseas.

John Crosby

What are we doing to counteract it? The other night, the NBC television network with a great show of pride unveiled for the first time anywhere in America a State Department official documentary film called "In Defense of Peace," one of our own propaganda efforts, which has been shown to 40,000,000 people in 71 countries. If this is the best we can do in the propaganda line, we ought to save our money.

"In Defense of Peace" is little more than a collection of newsreel shots, and I'll bet there isn't a single one you haven't seen at least 15 times. The Russians fighting in the suburbs of Berlin. The great motion picture portraits at Yalta — Roosevelt, Churchill, Stalin—smiling, triumphant, and—in the light of subsequent events—a little futile. On and on it went—the German surrender in the schoolhouse, the flag being raised at Iwo, MacArthur on the Missouri ("Let us pray that peace be now restored to the world and that God will preserve it always."), the birth of the United Nations at San Francisco—great scenes, all of them.

* * *

BUT ALSO FAMILIAR ones and ones that mean different things to different people all over the world. They were knit together by a narration which was as factual as a Latin textbook and about as inspiring. You gathered that these things had occurred—Is there anyone around who doesn't know that? — and that we had had some part in them. That's about all.

But it is in the aftermath of war, that period when the Russians and the free world ceased to be friends and became enemies, wherein our message to the rest of the world—if we have one—should lie. Well, the film showed innumerable shots of great shipboard cranes lifting those boxes into the holds of ships (the Marshall plan), of tractors happily run by French farmers, of piles of grain unloaded in Greece. We showed how our vastly wealthy country blew up its warplanes, beat it, cannon into ploughshares and then beat the ploughshares back into cannon again. It was a demonstration of our native opulence and productive abundance sufficiently impressive to embitter a Balkan peasant against those rich Americans for decades to come.

* * *

THIS IS PROPAGANDA? For whom—the Russians or us? When I was in Rome a man in the Italian foreign ministry told my traveling companion, Les Midgley, foreign editor of "Look" something I've never quite forgotten: "We Italians deeply appreciate everything America has done for us since the war. We know very well that without your tremendous Marshall Plan there would have been nothing here but anarchy. But sometimes we wonder why you don't come forth with something like Wilson's Fourteen Points or the Atlantic Charter, something men can have faith in. And they didn't cost one cent."

In other words we are exporting everything except ideas, which require nothing more elaborate than a pencil and paper. (And a brain. And a conviction.) The Russians have very effectively labeled us as warmongers all over the world. We retaliate by showing films showing 40,000,000 people overseas how many tanks, planes and guns we are producing. This is reassuring to us and possibly to the heads of foreign states and foreign armies. But hardly to the people who have clutched to their breasts the word that Russia has made its own—peace.

If we could become in the minds of the outside world the exponents of freedom, if we could show them how free men live, if we could, in short, take over freedom as the Russians have taken over peace, we'd be in the propaganda business. As it is, we're just sending out stale newsreels.

TALKS ON HYMNOLOGY

A talk on hymnology by Mrs J. W. Baker was the program for a meeting of the Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters Monday night. Mrs. Paul Felder was hostess in her home on the Uhler road, assisted by Mrs. John Gries. Devotions were by Mrs. D R. Biggert, Mrs. J. R. Folsom, a past leader of the circle, leaving to make her home at St. Louis, Mo., was honored with a handkerchief shower. A work meeting will be held Oct. 16 at the Recreation Room of First Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Paul Williams as hostess.

Tennessee was nicknamed "Volunteer State" when President James K. Polk called for 2,800 men to fight the Mexican War and 30,000 Tennesseans volunteered.

Veterans and Draftees Guide

—By—

Major Thomas M. Nial

A World War II vet recently told me he wishes he had done two things in service: save money and study.

He explained he was drafted out of college in 1943 and came back in 1946 to finish on the G.I. Bill.

"Generous as the G.I. Bill was," he said, "I had to use all my savings and take a part-time job to finish. Furthermore, I had to study an extra summer because I didn't have enough credits to graduate. If I'd saved more pay and taken courses through USAFI, it would have meant less sweat and wasted time later."

My vet friend's advice—save and study—is even more important for today's servicemen. Why? Indications are the new G.I. Bill may be based on the idea of the vet's helping pay his way much more than previously.

* * *

YOU CAN SAVE easily with the following allotments from service pay . . .

1. To your parents or wife to save for you.
2. Direct to your bank for a savings or checking account or to a building and loan association for a savings account.
3. For U. S. Government bonds, the smallest of which sells for $18.75 and is worth $25 after 10 years. You may allot as little as $6.25 monthly. As soon as enough has been deducted to pay for a bond it is made out in your name and sent to whomever you wish.
4. To your post office for postal savings. Such deposits pay two percent annual interest, except in Mississippi, where it's one percent.

Be sure to make arrangements beforehand with a bank, post office or person who's to get an allotment from you.

All the services except the Coast Guard also allow enlisted men to open special savings accounts. The Army and Air Force call them "Soldiers Deposits," the Navy and Marine Corps "Savings Deposits." They are not made by allotment but by cash payments of at least $5 each direct to your finance or disbursing officer.

* * *

AFTER SIX MONTHS the deposits begin to draw four percent annual interest, more than U. S. bonds or postal savings. But, unlike U. S. bonds and postal savings, the deposits may not be drawn out whenever you want. You get them back with interest only at time of separation.

Those who want to finish school or college should get advice from their principal or dean and map out a study program. Usually a few basic courses—math, English, a foreign language—are required for graduation. It might be well to get them out of the way in service.

Most schools and colleges accept U. S. Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) courses for credit. Some high schools or state education departments grant high school diplomas to servicemen who pass USAFI's General Education Development (GED) test, an exam to measure your total knowledge.

* * *

YOU'LL BE BUSY as a beaver during basic training. But when you settle down in a permanent assignment, you might look into these types of courses:

1. Correspondence and self-teaching courses from grade school through the college level. They're offered by USAFI itself, costing only $2 for as many as you can take, one at a time. Some universities offer their own through USAFI.
2. Group study courses with a bunch of your buddies, an officer acting as instructor, using USAFI texts and materials.
3. If you're lucky, classroom courses direct from a college. Some colleges even send instructors overseas to give servicemen courses for "residency credit"—a good break since you're usually required to take a proportion of courses while "in residence" at a college before it grants a degree.

* * *

(You may write Major Nial care of this newspaper about your own service-connected problem, but please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope).

DR. PAUL J. MORRIS

Baptists Plan Area Training Conference

An area leadership training conference for Baptist laymen and women in the Marion, Mansfield and Mt. Vernon Associations will be held at Marion's Trinity Baptist Church Sunday.

The opening session is scheduled for the Sunday School hour and will be in the form of a panel discussion on "Successful Adventures in Working for Christ."

At the morning worship hour and again at the evening service, Dr. G. Pitt Beers, executive secretary of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, will be the chief speaker. Conferences will be held during the afternoon under the direction of Dr. H. E. MacCombie, area representative of the Council on Finance and Promotion of the American Baptist Convention.

Leader of the denominational team sponsoring the conference will be Dr. Paul Judson Morris, executive secretary of the Ohio Baptist Convention, who will speak on "Baptists at Work in Ohio." He has been executive secretary of the Ohio Baptist Convention since 1939, and has the direct supervision over 400 Baptist churches in this state.

He is a graduate of Franklin College and Newton Theological Seminary and holds an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Franklin College. Before coming to Ohio, he served nine years with the Vermont Baptist Convention, first as director of Christian education and evangelism, and later as executive secretary.

A buffet luncheon will be served by the women of Trinity Church for the visitors at noon, and a supper at 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

MRS. KLINGEL ELECTED

Mrs. Raymond Klingel was elected president of the St. Joseph's Evangelical and Reformed Women't Guild at Waldo recently when Mrs. Alfred Fogle entertained in her home east of Waldo. Mrs. Claude Cook was elected vice president; Mrs. Robert Dunlap, secretary; and Miss Mary Ellen Knappenberger, treasurer. The officers and committee members were named to attend a district meeting in Delaware this month. Devotions were by Rev. W. F. Kissel, Mrs. Pearl Beckel and Mrs. Flora Kreis. Contest awards went to Mrs. Beckel and Mrs. Marion Cook. Mrs. Paul Fogle assisted the hostess in serving. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Dunlap.

NEW 1952 HARLEY-DAVIDSON MOTORCYCLES Now On Display

"Going through the gears" is an easy, convenient operation with the new foot shift—hand clutch which permits four forward speeds without removing a hand from the handlebars on the 1952 model Harley-Davidson Big Twin Hydra-Glide motorcycles, according to Glen Dane Jr of Marion Cycle Store.

The rider merely 'foots' through the gears, operating the clutch by a hand lever conveniently located on the left handlebar.

To the time-proved features of hydraulic valve lifters, hemispherical combustion chambers, and chrome plated compression piston rings has been added Parco-Lubrizing of exhaust valves on Big Twin motors See 1952 models now on display.

Please, General

NEVER noted for glibness, Gen. Omar Bradley is quoted as saying in Korea that he doesn't think "the Communists can hurt us."

His countrymen deplore the misunderstanding this awkward expression will cause back home. It brings to mind the confidence of the prize-fighter's manager that a burly opponent "can't hurt us."

Gen. Bradley did not mean that, of course. Justly famed as a soldier's soldier, he knows that Korea must continue to be, if the war goes on, what it has been since the fighting began—a bloody battleground.

It is unlikely that the Communists can drive the United States and its token allies off the Korean peninsula; that is what Gen. Bradley meant to say. But it is inevitable that if they keep trying with all their might they are going to take a heavy toll of life and limb.

The question is going to be whether or not the United States will be as resolute in the winter of 1951-1952, if this happens, as it was in the winter of 1950-1951. During the heavy fighting that winter, this country sustained major reverses and heavy casualties. There were times when it was almost ready to give up. Gen. Bradley and other spokesmen now are building up morale in advance for another winter of hard fighting in Korea.

It will be bloody, costly and painful. If cease-fire talks are broken off completely, it will mean that the Communists have made the fateful decision to drive the United States and its allies out of Asia, or lose face in the attempt.

No Flintlocks

THINK twice about Charles E. Wilson's remark to President Truman that big production of some weapons may have to be held back lest the United States fill its arsenal with useless junk.

A country getting ready to launch a war has the advantage of working to meet a deadline; it knows when it is going to fight and what weapons it will use. Countries trying to defend themselves are under the disadvantage of not knowing when they will be attacked, or what weapons will be used. The United States and its allies are under that disadvantage.

If they finally prepare themselves for attack and the attack does not come, they will be stuck with billions of dollars' worth of obsolete weapons—as obsolete as the vast fleets of airplanes which were junked at the end of World War II.

The question is whether or not American taxpayers then would authorize their congressmen to appropriate more billions to modernize the arsenals of freedom. The alternative would be to do what the French did before World War II when they stood pat on their arrangements to fight and win another World War I—instead of building the dive bombers and motorized equipment which the Germans were building for World War II.

If war with Russia does not materialize after the United States and its allies have spent a billion dollars a week for several years, the high cost of defense will make all preceding high costs of defense look like peanuts by comparison.

By Way of Demonstration

PRESIDENT TRUMAN now knows what newspapermen are talking about when they say his executive order to clamp down on security information will be abused by federal jobholders.

Within a matter of hours after the order was issued, Michael V. DiSalle's Office of Price Stabilization had issued a directive to its 10,000 employes to button up all information which might be "embarrassing" to that agency.

As soon as this was called to Mr. Truman's attention, he ordered the OPS directive to be withdrawn because it was so broad "it might be misconstrued." That was putting it mildly.

The ultimate effect of the OPS directive—and the ultimate effect of the executive order on which it was based—can be guessed with as much certainty as the ultimate effect of keeping rabbits of mixed sexes in the same pen. One thing will lead to another.

The fixed tendency of all people trusted with public power is to betray the trust by trying to cover up their own errors and uncertainties. That is why the Constitution guarantees freedom of the press, to give the people the right to find out what their public officials are doing.

In every generation—in every day of every generation—this freedom must be guarded, to keep high-handed public officials from scuttling it. They always can think of one more good reason for wanting to get rid of it. Mr. Truman had a good reason and so did DiSalle. Mr. Truman has just told DiSalle he blundered. Mr. Truman blundered, too.

Declaring there's enough burial space for at least 200 years, the American Cemetery Association says there's no need for the government to get into the cemetery business. And it's hoped that the government program of trying to control everything from cradle to grave will run its course long before the lapse of 200 years.

And It Wasn't McCarthy

By David Lawrence

Another Wisconsin Senator Who Was Condemned

WASHINGTON

THIS is a tale about a Wisconsin senator—a Republican. He made speeches inside and outside the Senate which angered the people of his own state and the people of the nation.

The unpopularity of this senator was such that newspapers from one end of the country to the other denounced him not only for "his tactless way of bludgeoning his adversaries" and his "vocabulary of anathema" but for "treasonable and seditious utterances."

LAWRENCE

The Republican state central committee of Wisconsin by unanimous vote demanded his expulsion from the United States Senate for "treasonable and seditious utterances." The League of Wisconsin Municipalities took the same action. The State Council of Defense and 71 county councils called on him to resign and demanded that the U. S. Senate expel him if he didn't resign. He was hanged in effigy.

Rotary groups, bar associations, public safety committees in his own state and elsewhere denounced him. The Republican state convention of Massachusetts adopted a resolution censuring him for "marked disloyalty." Former President Theodore Roosevelt called him the "most sinister enemy of democracy in the United States" and called for his expulsion from the Senate.

* * *

THE SAME WISCONSIN senator then made a bitter speech in St. Paul, Minn. There was some doubt afterward as to exactly what the senator said. The furor caused the United States Senate to appoint a special committee to investigate the demands for expulsion. The chairman of that committee—a Democratic senator—construed the committee's powers as limited to ascertaining first, the truth or falsity of his statement of facts. The issue was debated at length in the Senate. Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, Republican, a great lawyer of his day, who later became a secretary of state, refused to admit that the issue of free speech was at stake. He said: "This is a question of erroneous statement of facts rather than of free speech."

The Wisconsin senator had denounced the motives of the United States government. He questioned the sincerity of its acts at a time when its troops were fighting on the battlefield. Only from a few places did endorsement of his stand come. The California Federation of Labor, for instance, expressed confidence in him as a "true American citizen" and upheld his right to voice the views of "an intelligent man."

FINALLY the Wisconsin legislature by vote of 26 to 3 in its Senate and 53 to 32 in its House, after a stormy continuous session of 17 hours, passed a resolution condemning him for failing to see the righteousness of the nation's cause and rebuked him for his utterances as tending to "incite sedition."

Ten times the special committee of the United States Senate met and ten times it adjourned without doing anything.

All this took place in 1917 and 1918 during a time when the United States was at war, and when several persons outside of public life had been arrested under the espionage laws for inciting sedition. But congressional immunity or congressional restraint or forbearance ruled the day. Nothing was done. The issue was left to the people of Wisconsin.

Then after the war the same Wisconsin senator was re-elected by the people of Wisconsin and remained in the Senate for many years afterward, often fighting in behalf of unpopular causes. So great was his hold on the people of his state that his son—a very able man in his own right — was elected to the Senate as his successor without being in the slightest degree damaged politically by the controversy in which his father had been engaged. Indeed, the father ran for the presidency of the United States as an independent in 1924 and polled close to 5,000,000 votes. No third party candidate since then has obtained as many.

* * *

THE NAME of the senator from Wisconsin for whose expulsion there was such widespread demand was Robert M. La Follette.

And what did history say 34 years later? A President of the United States — a Democrat—in speaking to a nationwide radio audience on July 28, 1951, denounced by implication a present-day U. S. senator from Wisconsin and spoke of Wisconsin as "the home state of two of America's greatest liberal and progressive senators, Robert M. LaFollette and Robert Junior."

This tribute of "greatness" was given to a man once widely denounced. It will be argued, of course, that the cases of Senators McCarthy and La Follette are not parallel because the one smeared individuals and the other smeared his own government or because one allegedly engaged in improper campaigning and the other did not. It makes one wonder how many people in America, inside and outside public life who profess to be "liberals," sincerely subscribe to the doctrine laid down by the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court of the United States who once defined freedom of speech as "freedom for the thought we hate."

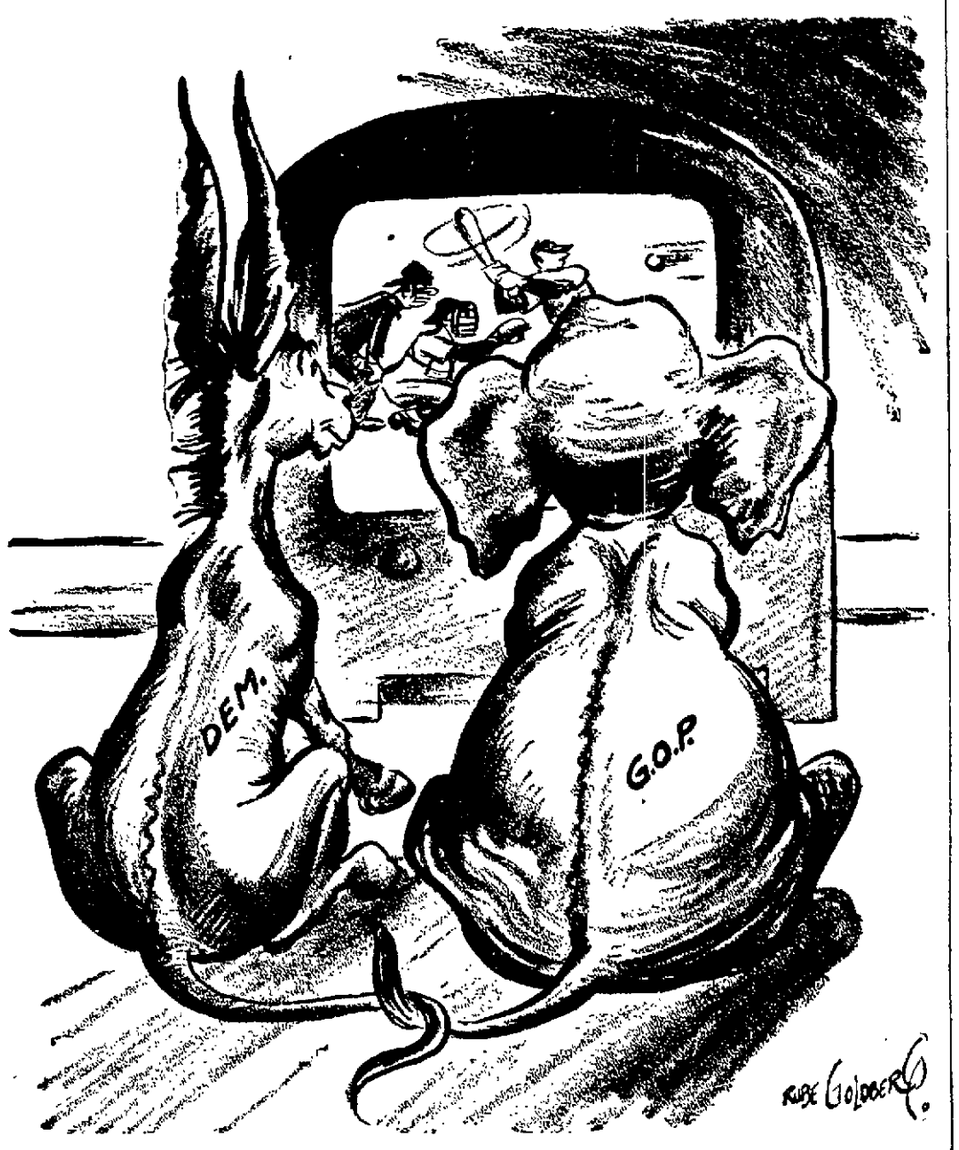
Don't They Look Nice Together!



Change of Mind About Peace in Korea

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

THIS country's top military brass seems to have changed its mind about the earnestness of the Communists in wanting peace in Korea.

Last summer—when the Russians proposed armistice talks and the talks began—some of the highest officers in the defense department here told newsmen off-the-record they thought the Communists were sincere in wanting peace.

James Marlow

Since then the talks have broken down. The Communists have stalled, letting the hope of peace in Korea drag on while using the stalling period to build up their Korean forces.

Now this country's top military man, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has flown to the Korean battlefront for an on-the-spot survey of the situation.

He insisted his visit was not of "great significance." And his visit by itself might not have appeared to have great significance. But what happened during his visit seems significant, indeed.

He toured the battlefront with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, and Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander.

All of them made statements which would indicate they have small trust of the Communists' intentions and at the same time issued ominous warnings to the Communists of what will happen unless the peace talks are resumed soon.

* * *

TUESDAY, BRADLEY, told newsmen in Korea—without elaboration—that if the truce talks are broken off completely the United Nations can bring the Korean war to a successful "military conclusion."

Ridgway's headquarters had already issued a statement which said in part: "The whole issue of the resumption of talks is one that can not be hedged much longer."

Van Fleet made a fairly long report on what has been done in Korea and what may be expected starting with the statement that on Sept. 25 the Allied troops had started an "Autumn offensive."

He said: "whether this effort (The Autumn offensive) will be limited or otherwise, I am not at liberty to say. . . . The Communist forces in Korea are not liquidated but they are badly crippled."

And Van Fleet explained that the Allies have been using the four-month period since the armistice talks began to train their troops and build up their own forces.

* * *

ALL THIS MIGHT be interpreted by the Communists as an American propaganda threat to get the armistice talks going again.

But in view of last summer's confidence of American Army leaders here at home in the sincerity of the Communists in wanting peace, these latest statements by Bradley, Ridgway and Van Fleet would seem to show any confidence in the Communists' earnestness is ebbing fast.

Ridgway's statement also said that the 8th Army doesn't plan to sit idly by much longer. That is a little less strong than the threat made to the Communists by Gen. Douglas MacArthur earlier in the year but none the less positive.

MacArthur on his own had warned the Communists they'd be run over unless they talked peace—this was long before the peace talks began—but made the statement on his own without the Joint Chiefs of Staff at his side.

But this statement out of Ridgway's office was made after Ridgway had had time to talk face-to-face with General Bradley in Tokyo, and if the Allies made an all-out attack now it will be done with the blessing of the Joint Chiefs. Bradley's statement today seemed calculated to put authoritative sting in Ridgway's and Van Fleet's remarks.

* * *

THE LONG STALLING of the Communists in the armistice talks must have made many Americans feel that the talks were useless and a Communist fraud and should be broken off to let an all-out Allied attack begin.

But Ridgway and the Joint Chiefs have let the talks dawdle, probably hoping to show Americans back home and the rest of the world that they had been utterly patient in delaying full-scale attack.

If the Allies begin now the Communists may try to propagandize the rest of the world into believing the Allies didn't want peace at all. But the Allies have plenty of evidence to the contrary, certainly enough to win the full hearted support of their own people.

Flying on One Wing

By TRUMAN TWILL

VERY interesting blurb in the paper about right-handed and left-handed people and the possibility some of us are born with no inclination to be either. This makes more sense than the old-fashioned notion that everybody had to be classified as either right-handed or left-handed.

They classified me as a right-hander, though no tests were used. Along toward the end of the educational phase of my life, a chronic inability to throw a baseball accurately caused a switch to the left hand—and thereafter fewer windows were broken. Eventually, the right-handed classification was discarded.

Both before and since that time an inclination to divide work between the right and left hand had indicated ambi-dexterity. For example, when painting I held the brush first in one hand, then in the other, depending on which hand was "handier."

In all tasks involving the use of tools like wrenches, pliers, screw drivers and drills, I switch from one hand to the other. But in tasks which call for more strength than dexterity, such as hammering and sawing, I rely on the right hand because it's attached to the arm with the greater endurance.

In throwing a ball, I still throw right-handed if the idea is to attain distance, left-handed if the idea is to attain accuracy. In using table implements, I eat the salads left-handed because that is where they are placed, but eat most other things right-handed because there is no special reason to eat them left-handed.

Ambi-dexterity has many advantages. When shaving, for instance, a two-handed razor wielder can skip most of the awkward contortions which threaten to lead to throat-cutting. In the case of tying a bow tie, which many men claim is too hard for them to learn, an ambi-dextrous man simply cannot understand what is difficult about the motions required. He has an advantage.

I never learned to write left-handed, though it shouldn't take more than two days to learn to do it as well as it is done right-handed on those rare occasions when it's necessary to write in this mechanical era.

But to get back to the possibility that some of us start off with no predisposition to be either right-handed or left-handed, it is interesting to note that the two boys influenced by the environment which I help to maintain are similarly ambi-dextrous. One, particularly, seems to have no preference and apparently would be perfectly balanced were it not for the preponderance of right-handed equipment.

A great many ambi-dextrous human beings probably fly through life on one wing solely because no one ever allowed them to fly on both wings. They were forced into right-handedness, perhaps into left-handedness, when their natural inclination would have been to stay betwixt and between.

Daily Bible Thought

The limitless powers of the human soul suggest an infinitely glorious existence in a far higher life. Let us not be earth bound by gross sensualities: "ye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things that God hath prepared for them that love him."—1 Cor. 2:9.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Pilgrim Diary, Modern Style

"The speaker alleged," said a news item the other day, "that the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth because they ran out of beer, then a necessary part of the victuals. Otherwise the Mayflower would have continued the journey southward." We await further developments and, perhaps, some amazing extracts from the diaries:

* * *

Sept. 6—Our little band left England this mornyng on ye ship Mayflower, there being some disappointment over this name, some thinkyng it were better named Ye Humulus or hop plant. All were in good spirits, singyng Rolle Out Ye Barrell in a myghty chorus. The vessel is well provisioned, so all are of a stoute heart.

* * *

Sept. 14—Ran into very rough weather and some passengers did express a fear which was allayed by assurances that the kegs were well stowed. Some wretch did spread a rumour the Mayflower was already running short of jingles.

* * *

Sept. 20—Another rumour this day to the effect our vessel is lowly provisioned with slogans having already used up a supply that included "The brew that gives you that pioneer feelyng!" "Next to high hopes comes high HOPS" and "The Ale for a gale." The captain did reassure by breakyng out with two very good ones, "Ye Malt without fault" and "When in a strange country start life anew with the right brew!"

* * *

Oct. 10—A very heavy storm this day. Miles Standish did rally the spirits of our passengers by formyng a quartette and singing the chantey:

Ye Pilgrims were a hardy crew,
They rode the seas devoid of fear
Because no matter how it blew
They could depend on Whozzitt's Beer.

Everybody tooke to composing jingles to a loude stampyng of feete and felt so much better the storm was forgotte.

* * *

Oct 17—We are now a long time out and the ship is so battered we suffer from a greate feeling of fear and dejection. John Alden did suggest an idea to raise our spirits through a contest to name a young lady as "Miss Mayflower's Beer for 1620." The young women did receive it with high elation and did begin primpyng and smilyng and sittyng on the ship rail showing their ankles more than seemed proper.

* * *

Oct. 18—The voting in the contest has been counted and Mistress Priscilla Alden hath won. The ship hove to while she was presented with a large list of prizes which did include a fowlyng piece with powder horn, a book on "What To Do If Indians Come," a very large hatchet and several fine hoes and rakes.

* * *

Nov. 1—Land is thought to be near. Bird sighted which is said by a Mr. Bradford to be a well-known bird in the new country which is, known as the "Bock," spelled B-O-C-K, which is very dark with a white and foamyng crest. Land had better come soon, as there is much unrest due to a rumour the vessel is running very low on beer.

* * *

Nov. 5—Ship ran into more heavy weather with a week of fog John Alden did again lift the spirits of the battered voyagers by constant repeating of a new slogan for foul weather, "Make it clear!"

* * *

Nov. 8—There was a near mutiny. Some low fellow did offer a toast, "Bottoms up," while the ship was rollyng heavily. Peace was not restored until he was cast overboard as was his just fate.

* * *

Nov. 11—In Provincetown harbour this day. And very fortunate, too, as ship was low on beer and had run out of commercials. The captain did wish to go farther but, hearyng of the shortages, the passengers would have none of it.

* * *

Dec. 11—Went ashore and landed on Plymouth Rock which Standish did predict would become famous as, "The Rock that Made the Pilgrims Famous."

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

When John Emery and his bride of two years, after a long and toilsome journey through scattered white settlements of Southern Central Ohio, arrived in Marion, they were venturing, as they thought, beyond the limits of any white settlement. The Sunday after their arrival they were pleasantly surprised by a visit from Peter Dunkleberger, who a few weeks previous had settled a short distance up the river. During the week he had heard the ring of Mr. Emery's axe.

Penicillin Discovery

NEW YORK—(AP)—Seven doctors have announced a way to keep "strep throat" infection from developing into rheumatic fever—one of the main sources of heart disease among teen-agers. The doctors, five of whom are Air Force officers, said penicillin, if used at the sore throat stage, apparently goes a long way toward prevention of rheumatic fever. Reporting in a recent issue of the American Journal of Medicine, they said Air Force men who developed streptococcus throat infections at the Francis E. Warren Air Force Base, Wyoming, were divided into two groups. If your serial number ended in an even number, you got penicillin. If it ended in an odd number, you didn't. All were cured of their streptococcus infections, the doctors reported, but the odd-numbered men developed rheumatic fever symptoms 14 times as often as the even-numbered ones.

Amateur Pro

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Two years ago Theodosia La Barbera, Miami housewife, enrolled in a creative writing class at the local Y.W.C.A. Within a year she had won a $2,000 prize in a radio play contest; since then she has won $350 on another radio play.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Friday, Oct. 3, 1941.

Russia's Red armies reported they had thrown the Germans back nearly 30 miles on the Leningrad front, overrun Nazi siege trenches around the old Czarist capital, and inflicted more than 8,700 casualties on the long battleline from the Gulf of Finland to the Black Sea.

A luncheon at Hotel Harding followed by a program in the afternoon brought to a close a two-day conference of clubs of Central District of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs held in Marion.

Wesley M. King, a former Marion County commissioner, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home at King's Mill, seven miles southeast of Marion. He was 75.

A son was born in City Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Griffis of 263 Hane avenue, and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Collins of 328 Fies avenue.

The Town and Country Garden Club and the House and Garden unit closed their seasons until February, with Mrs. R. T. Lewis of Vernon Heights boulevard entertaining the former group and Mrs. P. F. Nichols hostess to the House and Garden unit at her home in Vernon Heights boulevard.

* * *

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Saturday, Oct. 3, 1931.

Former State Finance Director Harry D. Silver announced that former Governor Myers Y. Cooper had decided to become a candidate for reelection in 1932 and would wage his campaign on a platform advocating an earned income tax and an increased utility tax. Silver had been Mr. Cooper's campaign manager in previous years.

The long controversy over the course of Route 20 through this section of the state came to an end with a decision to have the section along the Lincoln Highway between Delphos and Mansfield designated as Route 30-north and the one through Marion, Kenton and Galion as Route 30-south.

Clifford L. Gorton of South High street joined the ranks of Marion golfers credited with scoring a hole in one. He made this mark along the fairway of the 150-yard No. 6 hole at the Marion Country Club. Playing against him was W. G. Lusch.

The Delaware High School football team defeated Harding High at the fairgrounds, 13-6. Marion's touchdown was made by Fullback Lindsey.

3 To Attend Convention Of 40 et 8

Final plans were made for three members of Marion Voiture No. 48, 40 et 8, to attend the promenade nationale of the 40 et 8 to be held this month in Miami, Fla., in connection with the national American Legion convention, at a meeting of the Marion Voiture Monday night in the Legion Dugout.

Dr. H. A. Hoopes of LaRue, J. Albert Dripps and William Arndt of Marion plan to leave here on Wednesday, Oct 10, for Florida. Glenn Allen of Rocky River, O., grand correspondent of the 40 et 8 and a member of the Marion Voiture, also will be in attendance at the convention

Mr Dripps, chef de train, presided for the meeting during which Walter F. Behner, chef de gare, was reported ill in the hospital and three other members, W. E Orcutt, D. J. MacDonald and Harry Lauer, were reported ill at their homes.

Plans for the year were discussed and Fred Thacker and Dr. Hoopes reported on plans for a "wreck" in the near future. Plans were set up for installation of officers to be held on Nov 5 with Joseph T. Kenney of Springfield, grand chef de gare of Ohio, as installing officer A banquet will precede the installation.

Jury Refuses To Indict Actress Carol Bruce

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Oct. 3—(AP)—State police said a charge of manslaughter against actress Carol Bruce will be dropped The Carbon County grand jury yesterday declined to return an indictment.

Miss Bruce was arrested after a crash July 11 involving her auto and a coal truck The truck driver, Sherwood Fehnell, 23, of Nesquehoning, Pa., was killed. The actress was appearing in summer stock here at the time.

Basic English Course For D.P.'s Planned

Class Will Meet At Harding 10 Weeks Starting Oct. 16

A course in basic English for displaced persons and native Americans in the Marion area who desire to improve their speech will be offered as part of the adult education program at Harding High School in cooperation with the Marion County Ministerial Association.

The first class will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 16 at the high school, and will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesdays for ten consecutive weeks.

Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, is doing the promotional work in organizing the class.

Among those who are interested in this course are Mr. and Mrs Alexander Ievins, Edward Ievins, Mr. and Mrs Doumants Viks, Karlis Ozols, Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Ezerins, Angelo Alex, John Orlowski, Mr. and Mrs Ladislaus Bondor, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hirsch, Mrs. Elfriede Breece, Mr. and Mrs Arthur Anderson, and John R. and Anthony Antja, foreign born residents of the area.

Dr. Schaeffer reported that transportation to Marion has been arranged for several of the displaced persons who live out of town. He felt that similar transportation might be arranged for any others who would like to take the course, but have no way of getting to the class.

Floyd P. Gehres, director of adult education at Harding, said that the course will deal with a basic knowledge of the English language, reading ability, and Americanization subjects.

Dr. Schaeffer and Mr. Gehres report that the class is still open to others interested in taking the course. These persons may enroll in the class by contacting their minister, priest, rabbi, or calling the adult education office at 2-3647.

Quaker Union at Akron To Vote on Wage Offer

AKRON, O., Oct. 3—(INS)—Strikers at the Quaker Oats Co. plant in Akron vote today on a 10½ cent an hour wage increase offered by the company.

The workers, members of Local 268, C.I.O.-Cereal Division of the United Brewery Workers, walked off the job four weks ago. The local is seeking a 13 cent raise

The strike, which has idled some 700 workers, is the longest against the company.

Rev. Falor, Family Honored by Class

Members of Oakland Evangelical United Brethren Sunday School and Church met at the parish house Tuesday for a surprise reception for the pastor, Rev H V. Falor, and family. It was sponsored by the Willing Workers Class on the regular class meeting date Rev Falor was returned as pastor of Oakland Church recently for another year.

The parish house was decorated with flowers A large banner was displayed with the words, "Welcome Back Falors" One feature of the covered dish dinner was a decorated cake presented by Mrs Bessie Thornberry bearing the words, "Welcome Rev. Falor and Family"

Howard Travis, Sunday School superintendent, was master of ceremonies. Several numbers were given by the orchestra, under the leadership of Mrs Lilly Phelps Rev J R Dallas, a retired Oakland Church pastor, led the devotional period. The song, "It Is No Secret," was presented by a sextette of girls The Falors were presented with a pair of solid mahogany end tables with plate glass tops The J. M Weaver family, unable to be in attendance, sent the Falors two dozen giant red and white gladioluses

Following words of appreciation by Rev. and Mrs. Falor, Mrs. Mary Vandersall, wife of Rev. Coburn C. Vandersall who is pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church of Amherst, showed colored slides of the four which the Vandersalls made through five European countries last summer.

Plan Adult Shop Classes

Woodworking, Auto Mechanics Offered

Harding High School will resume the Veteran's Training Class in Auto Mechanics and will offer a general course in Woodworking and Machine Shop to any interested adults

There will be an organizational meeting Tuesday evening, Oct 9, at 7 p.m. in the Harding High School Vocational Building.

These courses have had such a public appeal in the past that the school officials felt these classes should be organized in advance of the general educational classes which will convene in January, Floyd P. Gehres, supervisor of adult education reported.

Persons interested in enrolling in any of the above courses may do so by contacting Mr Gehres at the Vocational Office, phone 2-3647, or in the evening at 2-7628.

TEAS OPENED THE 1951-52 season for three clubs Monday afternoon.

When the Sesame Club met for a president's tea at the Woman's Club Home the occasion marked the opening of the 30th season. Members of the Current Topic Club were guests of Mrs. D. W. Mahaffey of Morral and members of the Advance Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. R. L. Gettman of Mt. Vernon avenue who will serve as president of the group for the coming season.

Mrs. Glenmore Hawkins, president of the Sesame Club, announced the club theme for the year, "The American Way of Life," and Mrs. O. V. Roby, a charter member, presented the program, "Highlights of Years Past." Taking part with Mrs. Roby in the review of the 30 years' activities, were the following charter members: Mrs. C. H. Lindsey, Mrs. Harry Topliff, Mrs. S. R. Vermillion and Mrs. Margaret Geran. Mrs. A. C. Brown displayed her paintings. A memorial service for Mrs. E. A. Schultz was conducted by Mrs. L. S Irey.

Joining the members for the tea was Mrs. W. B. Strayer, a charter member, now making her home in Springfield.

Mrs. C. H. Lindsey, Mrs. F. H. Fralich and Mrs. J. E. Bonen were in charge of the social hour. The table, at which Mrs. Hawkins presided, was decorated with pink chrysanthemums and greenery, to carry out the club colors.

For the next meeting the members will visit Mohican Park and there will be a basket luncheon.

Mrs. W. H. Symes was an associate hostess when the Current Topic Club met with Mrs Mahaffey. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs Stuart J. Mills, president, and Mrs. P. F. Nichols, treasurer. During a short business session Mrs. C. E. Danner was elected recording secretary.

Members of the social committee, Mrs. H. R. Finney, Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs Amos Chapman assisted Mrs. Gettman in entertaining the Advance Club. Mrs. Gettman presided at the tea table centered with pink and white fall flowers. During the social hour Lowell Gettman, son of the hostess, entertained with a group of piano numbers.

Wednesday evening the A.T.M. Club met in the home of Mrs. Dwight Douglas of 183 Chicago avenue for a potluck supper. The table was laid with a linen and lace cloth, made in Germany and sent to the hostess as a gift from her sister, Mrs. Patrick Mahon, who with her husband and children now reside there. Mrs. William A. Stout was a co-hostess for the affair. Bronze, yellow and white chrysanthemums were used throughout the rooms. In contests prizes were awarded Mrs. Charles Way and Mrs. Forrest Rouse. Mrs. William Stout was winner of the door prize. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. George Weist of 906 Congress street with Mrs. Winifred Bosh as assisting hostess

Officers, headed by Miss Mary Larson as president, were installed at a meeting of Chi of Ohio Chapter of the National Society of Pi Mu Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Judy Maxim on the Claridon pike. Miss Carolynn Jones was installed as vice president, Madelyn Marsh, secretary, Harriett Orr, treasurer, Teddy Pollock, reporter, Suzanne Carey, historian and Mrs. J. W. Baker, co-adviser.

In a candlelight service the following new members were initiated: Misses Linda Miller, Marilyn Howser. Barbara Wolf and Jane Tumbleson.

Miss Emma B. Wehrle, chapter adviser, talked on "Definitions in Music." Following the program hour there were games and later a wiener roast and refreshments. Guests included Mrs Kenneth Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maxim and J. W. Baker. On Oct. 25 the members and their parents will observe a guest night at the Perkins Observatory near Delaware.

To honor the birthday anniversary of their daughter, Sharon, who was 9, Mr. and Mrs. George A. West of 213 Madison avenue entertained with a party Tuesday. Guests present were Susan Stonebraker, Janet Burch, Ann Kimball, Carolyn Isaly, Kenneth Coffae, Tommy Clark, Martin Altmaier, Larry Varner, Bobby Varner, and Mrs. William Varner. Entertainment included games and contests preceding serving of refreshments.

First fall meeting for the Cosmos Club was at the home of Mrs. Ed Strausbaugh on Cherry street Thursday. The hostess served 1 o'clock luncheon. Prizes were won by Mrs Ralph Roszman of near Meeker, Mrs. Adelia Conklin, and Mrs. Ray Snyder. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Snyder on East Church street.

Miss Wilma Goebel and Steve Lacey entertained the Marion Lecture-Recital Club Monday evening at the home of the latter at 562 Windsor street.

The meeting opened with the group singing the National Junior Collect and Hymn accompanied by Mrs. John Lacey.

Mrs. Lacey, central district counselor of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, installed the following officers: Eddie Porter, president; Steve Lacey, vice president; Wilma Goebel, secretary; Jerry Gillis, treasurer. Mrs. Lacey also presented Mrs. Ralph E. Mills as the new counselor of the club.

Anita Porter was appointed librarian, and a calling committee comprised of Carol Hoch, chairman, and Evelyn Price and Caroline Jones was named.

The following new members were welcomed: Delores Seiter, Ruth Bosley, pianists; Jean Bibbee and Mary Jo Garber vocalists.

Theme of the program was "Modern Music." The study topic, "Bela Bartok the Great Modern Composer," was presented by Steve Lacey who illustrated his talk with recordings. Recordings by another modern composer, William Schumann, were also played.

The musical program included piano solos, "Improvisation Melody," Brown, Delores Seiter, and "Enchantment," Dungan, Ruth Bosley; voice number, "I Love Thee", Grieg, Jean Bibbee accompanied by Mrs. Lacey; trio number "Largo", Loeillet, Wilma Goebel, violin, Steve Lacey, cello, and Mrs J. Paul Goebel, piano.

The host and hostess were assisted in serving by Mrs. Goebel and Mrs. Lacey.

Mrs. Vernol Freshour of Wyandot was hostess for a meeting of the Variety Club Thursday evening. Entertainment was in charge of Mrs Loraine Rengert and Mrs. Wanda Tourney and prizes were won by Mrs. Freshour, Mrs. Betty Thibaut and Mrs. Dorothy Starner. Mrs. Ann Graham and Mrs. Leah Jean Stone were complimented with personal showers. Refreshments were served.

YOUTHFUL BRUSH-OFF. Ready to brush his teeth—all fourteen of them—is cute Edward Blair, 8½ months old, of Chicago. According to his parents, he can do a better job on meat and potatoes and other solid foods than his 2-year-old sister.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mrs. Florence Romine and Walter C. Haldeman, both of this city. Mrs. Romine is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Clifford Rsidenbaugh of 310 West Columbia street.

The double ring wedding ceremony took place Monday, Oct. 1, at the home of Rev K. R. Roberts, pastor of the Nevada Lutheran Church, in Nevada, O.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell E. Haldeman of Bucyrus, brother and sister-in-law of Mr. Haldeman and Mayor L. S. Snavely of Nevada.

Mr. Haldeman is manager of the National City Bank branch bank in Waldo.

Personal Mention

5 Ohio Teams Compete In Mine Rescue Contest

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—(AP)—Five teams of Ohio miners pit their skill in first-aid today against 50 groups from nine mining states in the national first-aid contest at the Ohio State fairgrounds.

The competition is part of the national first-aid and mine rescue contest sponsored by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The Ohio Department of Industrial Relations is playing host.

Ohio teams, each of six men, are entered from Dunglen (Jefferson County), Piney Fork (Jefferson County), Neffs (Belmont County), Powhattan Point (Belmont County and Bellaire.

Research, Woman's Club Open Season With Luncheons

WHEN members of the Research Club opened their 47th season Monday they were guests of the president. Mrs H. S. Ruhl at a dessert luncheon at Ringer's Inn. On the same day the Woman's Club opened its season at the country home of Mrs. J. P. Robinson of Brush Ridge with a dessert luncheon. In charge of the luncheon were members of the social committee, Mrs. B. R. Prichard, Mrs. C C. Roberts and Mrs. Ernest Davis.

For the Research Club luncheon the tables were centered with garden flowers. Favors were mint cups in pastel shades and places were marked with hand-painted cards, the latter gift greetings from Mrs Charles Bever, a former member who recently moved to Dwight, Ill.

Mrs. Ruh' extended greetings and repeated the club collect. Mrs Nellie Irey gave a report of the state convention held last spring at Akron. Group singing was led by Mrs. L. H Ludwig. The program, arranged by Mrs. E. L Bush and Mrs. O. C. Alspach, was by Miss Gertrude Mack of Cardington. Miss Mack talked on Tobey jugs and had with her a number of jugs from her extensive and valuable collection.

Guests were Miss Gertrude Mack and Miss Cora Mack of Cardington and Mrs. Nungesser of Cleveland. The next meeting, Oct. 15, will be a picnic at the home of Mrs R. K. Dunbar of Raymond.

Mrs. A. E Knapp, president, presided for the program meeting of the Woman's Club. The constitution of the club, adopted Dec. 16, 1895 was read by the secretary, Mrs. W. N. Harder. At the suggestion of the president it was voted to devote a short period during each meeting to brief reviews of the state and national club magazines, The Buckeye of Ohio and The Clubwoman, General Federation publication.

Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer of White Oaks Farm will be hostess for the meeting next Monday.

New York was named by King Charles II for his brotner, the Duke of York.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

HOLLYWOOD

THEY were a strange combination, standing there in a corridor of a Hollywood hotel—the actor Walter Pidgeon and the A.F.L. activist Jay Lovestone, a quiet man few people know, although he once told Joe Stalin, to his face, to drop dead.

The actor and the activist, though, had much in common. For they had just come from a closed meeting down the hall. There such actors as Bill Holden, Glenn Ford, Wendell Corey and Brenda Marshall had sat with such producers as Walter Wanger, Eddie Mannix and spokesmen for the giant of them all, Dore Schary, along with screen writers and directors and independent studio owners. They listened to Lovestone and his Chinese, Finnish, Turkish and Tunisian friends tell how Hollywood could help fight world Communism.

Victor Riesel

Earlier, there had been discussion of the Soviet's fear of American films. There was talk of the "hissing squads" the Soviet gauleiters hire in each nation to deride our pictures. Also talk of the riots the Commies start in front of movie houses about to show U. S. films—riots skillfully staged to scare off the box-office customers.

* * *

IN SOME COUNTRIES, the Stalinists tore up the seats; in Tel Aviv, hooting and booing Communist demonstrators forced two theaters to shut down instead of showing an American picture on Korea.

In Delhi and the Punjab state of India, the Commies forced exhibitors to junk "The Conspirator" and "The Red Danube." Nor was it any different in the more "civilized" Western Europe. There the Communists' official newspaper boasted they had kept Hollywood's film, "The Iron Curtain," from "being shown in Paris and Brussels."

When all other pressure and terrors fail, the Sovieteers simply call their pro-Commie movie machine operators' union out on strike—and the theaters are darkened.

Such is their fear of Hollywood's films, the feat of the visual reporting of our living standards, our refrigerators and television sets, our ideals and our freedoms. And for good reasons.

* * *

ONCE, FOR EXAMPLE, when the Russians doctored one of our old films which had in it some shots of New York's East Side slum jungle, the Soviets junked the film after the first few showings to their people. The Russian audiences, apparently, weren't interested in seeing "decadent" capitalist housing. What impressed them were the hundreds of sheets and pillow cases, shirts and other clothing hanging out to dry on the back yard clotheslines. The crowds figured that America can't be such a bad place if even the proletariat had an abundance of bedclothes, which are virtually unavailable to Soviet workers.

So Jay Lovestone, secretary of the AFL's free trade union committee, had come to his A.F.L. colleagues in the Hollywood talent guilds and studio crafts to ask them to send Hollywood stars as labor ambassadors to Europe.

Lovestone and his colleagues told how the plan had been suggested by an anti-Communist Berlin union leader.

"Just send me an A.F.L. actor along with a plumber and a carpenter in a labor delegation, and I'll show you how to interest and excite the working people here," the German had said.

As Lovestone and Pidgeon talked, the idea took sharper shape.

"Just imagine Walter Pidgeon, whom the French workers loved as Mr. Miniver or as the General in "Command Decision," arriving with a labor group in Lyons, Marseilles, Lille, Bordeaux," someone said.

* * *

"WE GET THE FRONT pages in every provincial newspaper, and these are the sheets which make opinion, you know the kind you find the working people reading, and which are in every doctor's or dentist's office.

"Imagine the effect of his arrival, or that of a Bing Crosby, a Spencer Tracy or a Clark Gable in the big steel, ship building and iron ore centers of Longwy, Mulhouse, Nantes, and Metz in the Alsace Lorraine District. There they could tell the story of their own union, the Screen Actors Guild, and the stage hands could report that Hollywood's movies are strictly union made, regardless of what the Commies say. That'd we worth tons and tons of the raw steel and iron we're trying to get through our new productivity-in-Europe program of the ECA."

And someone else added that there was a vacuum, now that the Communists in Hollywood have been routed. Not all those who worked with the undercover Stalinists were Commies, it was said. Some were honest liberals who wanted something to give substance to the shadows off which they earned such a lush living.

All right. The A.F.L.'s come to Now let's see what happens.

Bold Move Needed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

A YOUNG lieutenant, a survivor of the deadly battle for Heartbreak Ridge in Korea, said:

"The American doughboy is just as good here as he has ever been anywhere. He has only one fault. He has too much to live for."

Atop the ridge as he spoke lay the unrecovered bodies of many American young men, lost flesh from the lieutenant's own shattered battalion.

His eloquent appraisal of the U. S. infantryman, given after two straight weeks of frightful uphill fighting, is as fair as any ever made.

Hal Boyle

". . . As good here as he has ever been . . . only one fault . . . too much to live for."

These words are terribly true. They point up the plight and the danger of American arms in the 18th month of the Korean war.

* * *

OFFICIAL MILITARY studies have shown that in many Korean actions the American doughboy fought more fiercely, and with more skill, than he did in any engagements of the Second World War.

Since then he has been backed up with a great deal more armor, artillery and air support.

He is today probably the most efficient soldier ever to represent this nation. But he is a technician in battle, a virtuoso if you please, a soldier who prefers to avoid body contact with the enemy and wants to kill him from a distance. He puts his faith in his weapons rather than his muscles.

Why?

"He has too much to live for," said the lieutenant, who knows.

The American soldier has the distaste that any person who regards himself as civilized must feel when he finds himself reduced to fighting for his life against a foe he regards as barbarian. To him the Chinese and North Korean enemy seem little more than sad and frenzied animals that by some occult mystery have been taught to load and fire guns at him.

* * *

AMERICAN TROOPS carry out orders because they believe that by doing so they come back to the highest standard of living in the world. They want to return to a land where food and warmth are taken for granted, and a man can work up to something better.

Their Red enemy carried out orders because they are orders because they know nothing except "follow the leader": because they would starve if they refused to obey.

They attack in blind waves of heedless flesh that sicken an American machinegunner and fill him with a kind of awe that life can be so cheap.

"Too much to live for?" That may be an American fault on a single battlefield. But it is an American virtue in terms of our national safety.

This country has no waves of flesh to wash over and drown the teeming flesh of Asia in arms. Its flesh is limited and cannot be wasted. Nor can its dreams be thrown away, the dreams of those who have so much to live for.

* * *

THE AMERICAN casualties are now more than 85,000. A second winter of potential stalemate is at hand, unless some daring tactical stroke of gigantic size breaks the back of Red resistance.

But some way must be found to stop this bleeding to death of American men in Asiatic snows. Can our army afford the drain of taking Korea hill after endless hill, as it did in Italy?

America may yet have to reach deeper into its armory and produce a mightier and more decisive weapon to save the hopeful flesh and trained brains of frontline troops we cannot spare.

A bold new move would appear to be the answer.

Mrs. Malloy Named Administrator Of Scholarship Fund

A Marion resident, Mrs. Dennis J. Malloy of 562 Girard avenue, has been named district chairman and administrator of the Elizabeth Clark Scholarship Fund, sponsored by American Legion Auxiliaries of the Sixth District. Announcement of the appointment comes from the office of the Sixth District president, Mrs. R. E. Wynkoop of Delaware.

The purpose of the scholarship, named in honor of an early district president, is to give assistance to qualified orphans and needy children of veterans of the World Wars. Applicants must be high school graduates who wish to further their education with the idea of fitting themselves for their life work. They also must be recommended by their local auxiliary unit in keeping with rules adopted at the 1950 district fall conference and which became effective Jan. 1, this year. The project is supported through voluntary contributions from the auxiliaries and is sponsored as a welfare project.

The work will take Mrs. Malloy into seven counties in the district, Delaware, Knox, Licking, Madison, Marion, Morrow and Union. There are 33 units in the district.

Mrs. Malloy outlined the requirements and work of the office at a district fall conference held recently at Richwood. She is immediate past president of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion Auxiliary.

CHORUS TRYOUT SET

Extra tryout for membership in Lecture-Recital Club Chorus has been scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Thursday following chorus rehearsal, Miss Rosaline Manzo, chairman, announced. This will be the first rehearsal of the fall season and will be held at 7:30 at the Republican Headquarters Hall, in charge of Mrs. Howard Hinamon, new director. Anyone wishing to try out for membership may come to the headquarters at 8:30, or get in touch with her any time before the tryouts, Miss Manzo stated.

Arkansas contains the only diamond mine in North America.

679 MILLION CANS OF RIVAL DOG FOOD SOLD
IT MUST BE GOOD!

Actual Number Cans Sold: 679,416,552
WANT TO KNOW WHY we sell so many millions of cans of Rival? Look at any Rival-fed dog — big or little, pup or patriarch.
WATCH HIS EYES dance. Run your fingers through his coat—sleek and silky, thick and firm. Note that he's always ready for a romp or run. And this is often the same dog who failed to thrive—lost his looks and pep—on other foods! Rival Dog Food made the difference.
NOW WATCH HIM EAT. See him "jet-propel" himself up to his dish of Rival, with his tail telling the world: "This I like!" Yet this may be the "Fussy Fido" or "Hard-to-please Hector" who turned up a haughty nose at other foods. The secret? It's the nourishing ingredients in the Rival formula—plus the Rival flavor—a natural flavor, never artificially "doctored" or flavored.
RIVAL'S SUCCESS with dog owners and their dogs came about through the Rival idea. You see it in the modern Rival plant, spotless as your own kitchen, and the Rival laboratories, which double-check every ingredient. In the Rival Kennels, dogs fed only on Rival prove, by their splendid condition, that your dog too can have new beauty of coat, solid bone and muscle, and a world of vitality.

Billions of Dollars Spent Yearly

Sportsminded America Big Asset To Industry

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Baseball madness slows the pace of industrial and office life down to a walk this week. But any loss of time and product to industry as a whole is more than returned in dollar value in the course of a year by the money Americans shell out for sport.

Americans pay millions of dollars on spectator sports to see the Dodgers and the Giants play off their tie, to watch the tired winner face the Yanks, to crowd into costly football stadia, basketball gymnasiums, and race tracks, with or without benefit of bookies.

These millions of dollars are dwarfed by the billions that Americans pay out for other sports, such as bowling and softball, and those other sports that draw few crowds or none at all—hunting, fishing, skiing, boating and golf—but more money is spent on them annually than on tickets to the spectacles.

All sports require some equipment—often costly—usually some special apparel, and often transportation, lodging and meals. Providing them is highly profitable to many businesses and industries, and service firms all over the land. This looks like a banner year.

* * *

THIS YEAR, too, business firms are spending $500 million on sports and recreational activities of their employes—more than ever before. It is estimated that nearly 75 million workers and members of their families will participate in such company programs.

A national industrial recreation association official says that last year some 20,000 firms spent $450 million on sports and recreation for their employes. This was about double what industry spent in 1947, and also tops the wartime peak spending on these morale-building activities. Companies, the official says, find that company sports cut absenteeism and improve labor-management relations.

More is being spent this year than last, the official believes, because of the rising total of employment, meaning there will be more workers to participate. Also, higher tax rates make it easier for the company recreational director to squeeze more money out of the company controller, by arguing that the expenditures will have little drag on the net profits.

* * *

IN ADDITION TO sports for their workers, businessmen also sponsor "little league baseball" for boys 12 and under. There are more than 700 such leagues with some 3,800 teams and 68,00 players in 38 states. The American Legion also sponsors the famous junior baseball championships.

Even the New York Stock Exchange takes note of "sports—new business asset" in its house organ, where C. F. Robbins, president of A. G. Spalding & Bros., writes that bowling is the most popular of sports in industry. More than a million employes throng the alleys each year.

The Industrial Sports Journal estimates that 630,000 workers are softball players, 400,000 are golfers and 250,000 are in basketball teams.

But it's the unpublicized hunter and fisherman who really runs up the big total. Sporting goods houses estimate that Americans will spend around $9 billion this year on these two sports, if you count in all the accessories: dogs, boats, clothing, trailers, tents, club dues, cabins and cameras.

* * *

TRANSPORTATION TO and from the haunts of game and fish will take the largest single sum. Next will be the money spent on firearms, with fishing tackle not far behind. Meals and lodging for fishermen and hunters run into large sums each year, while around $300 million will be spent on ammunition.

So business houses and factories may suffer from absenteeism during the World Series, and from inattention of workmen during game time. But business as a whole can't complain.

Billions are poured into the industrial stream to pay for sports. Many industries, like sports apparel, benefit directly, either from participants or spectators. Worker morale is built up by sports. Juvenile delinquency is held in check.

And anyway, how can the boss complain? He isn't here. He's out at the game.

Princess, Duke Retain Pilot For Flight

LONDON, Oct. 3 — (AP) — When Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arranged a trans-Atlantic flight to start their North American tour they really picked a professional to manage the airplane.

In charge of the flight, to start from the London airport at 12 30 a.m. Monday, is the most methodical and careful of pilots—Britain's fabulous O. P. (Oscar Philip) Jones.

Should the princess and duke ask him what an Atlantic crossing is like he will be able to tell them that nothing of special interest happened on his first 250 air journeys to America.

He has had more adventure flying over the English Channel, but he has done that more than 7,000 times For years he crossed the channel several times a day. Once on a channel flight, he brought in his plane after a bolt of lightning had melted his radio transmitter.

Capt. Jones, 53, is the dean of pilots of the British Overseas Airways Corporation.

With Capt. Jones will be two other officers able to pilot the stratocruiser, a second captain and a first officer of flight, a radio operator, a navigator and two engineers. That takes care of flight operations.

Too look after the comfort of passengers will be three stewards and a stewardess. So Capt. Jones' team will be eleven, counting himself.

It has not been announced how many passengers there will be in the royal party, and no list has been released. The presumption was that in addition to the princess and duke there would be 10 or 12.

Communist Party Subject for Galion Club Speakers

Special to The Star

GALION—Ed Edmiston and his wife, Martha, told how they joined the Communist party as undercover agents for the Federal Bureau of Investigation when they appeared as speakers Monday before the Galion Federation of Women's Clubs at the Peace Lutheran parish house.

Last year in Washington they revealed that they were undercover agents for the FBI when they were called upon to testify.

Mrs. Edmiston said that since Korea, communism has decreased in its numbers. She also expressed the opinion that if she and her husband would pass out pamphlets for the Communist party now in front of factories, that they would have a rough time of it.

In their talks, Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston described the structure of the party, describing it as a conspiracy which assumes a number of "false faces" from time to time to serve the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Edmiston, in her association with the Communist party, worked with youth groups, while her husband worked with labor groups. They joined the party late in 1939 when the Communists switched their "line" and went underground, and shortly after Pearl Harbor, they were notified that they were no longer members when the party became suspicious of Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston.

Mr. Edmiston is a former attorney. He is now a business reporter with the Dayton Journal Herald. Mrs. Edmiston a former syndicated Ohio feature writer, is now editing two government publications.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. Fred Hesserauer. Special music was furnished by a local barber shop quartet.

Joseph Rice Sr., father of the Rice boy, credited the blood with "keeping them alive."

The boys were then brought to the hospital here. Their mothers waited outside the operating room yesterday as doctors cared for the boys' seared bodies.

Hire Consulting Engineer For Ohio Turnpike

Baltimore Firm To Get Percentage Fee; Will Top Half-Million

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission hired a consulting engineer yesterday for a percentage fee of more than a half million dollars.

The job went to the J. E. Greiner Co. of Baltimore, consultants on the Pennsylvania turnpike.

"With the sole exception of money—and approval of the route by the governor—we're ready to do business," said commission chairman James W. Shocknessy of Columbus as he signed the Greiner contract.

Greiner will supervise construction of the proposed $300,000,000 toll turnpike across northern Ohio for the following fees:

(1) One and one-half percent of total turnpike construction costs, and (2) five percent of the cost of moving public utility facilities excepting railroads.

The cost fee is likely to run $450,000. The utility moving fee is undetermined.

The Greiner contract was urged by state highway director T. J. Kauer, an ex-officio member of the commission. "I think it is a fair proposal," he said. "It will do things the commission wants done. I think it is a reasonable price."

Both Kauer and Frank C. Dunbar Jr., commission legal council, said the contract is an unusual one because Greiner agrees to do many things not usually found in such agreements.

Greiner agrees to begin working with the commission even before bonds are sold and will advise the commission for three months after the turnpike is opened to traffic.

Other unusual contract provisions listed by Kauer and Dunbar are:

The company will handle procurement of scarce steel, advise on operating and maintenance matters, relocate roads, bridges and public utilities facilities such as telephone and telegraph lines, and advise on all safety matters.

suffocation when in bed with their parents. In Scotland, he added there is an "overlaying law" which makes it a manslaughter offense if a child dies in bed with its parents and the latter have been drinking.

Overwhelming infection is the cause of the majority of these deaths, he stated. Even with careful post-mortem examinations, sometimes the explanation is not found.

"Healthy Young" Deaths

In discussing unexplained deaths in the "healthy young" and middle age groups, Dr. Moritz gave coronary thrombosis as the cause of the largest number of deaths, even down to the age of 18 years. Overwhelming infection and unrecognized violence were listed by the speaker as other causes of death in these groups.

He stressed the importance of careful and thorough post-mortem examination to the community in determining whether it was a communicable disease, was it due to hidden violence, could it have been prevented.

"Management of Abnormal Vaginal Bleeding" was discussed by Dr. Roger B. Scott, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology. He stressed the importance of complete examination in diagnostic studies in all cases of prolonged or excessive vaginal bleeding.

Panel discussions were conducted and talks given on other timely topics including use of cortisone, ACTH and other recently developed medicines. Participating in this part of the program were Dr. William D. Holden, the Oliver H Payne professor of surgery and director of surgery for the University Hospitals, Dr. William E. Abbott, associate professor of surgery, Dr. William McJefferies, senior instructor of medicine, Dr. Max Miller, assistant professor of medicine and Dr. Samuel Spector, assistant professor of pediatrics, all of the Western Reserve faculty.

New Officers

Elected to succeed Dr. Yeager as head of the association was Dr. C. H. Evans of Findlay. Dr. George Lemon of Toledo was elected vice president, Dr. Walter Beery of Lima, secretary and Dr. Henry Abbott of Tiffin, treasurer. The 1952 meeting will be held at Findlay.

Mrs. Farrell T. Gallagher of Lakewood, president of the state Auxiliary of the Ohio State Medical Association, was a guest at the district meeting. Speaker for the program was Richard Anderson of the Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, who gave a talk on his research trips to Alaska.

Mrs. Greetham presided for the meeting and the guests were welcomed by Mrs. J. F. Smyth, president of the hostess group. Miss Elizabeth Johnson, violinist, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. H. K. Mouser, entertained with a group of numbers. State officers and presidents of the visiting auxiliaries were presented and also Dr. Greetham and Dr. Smyth, advisors of the local auxiliary. Guests included Mrs. N. M. Reiff of Washington, C. H. state public relations chairman, Mrs. Marsh of Broadway, director of the 10th district, and auxiliaries from Celina, Wapakoneta, Lima, Pemberville, Bluffton and Kenton. Fifty women attended.

Editor Is Rotary Club Speaker

Need for "Uncommon Man" Cited by Grove Patterson

By A. L. McCLAIN

Grove Patterson, nationally-known editor of The Toledo Blade, described America's No. 1 need as "the uncommon man" in his talk at the Rotary Club's weekly luncheon yesterday at Hotel Harding.

He said, "The common man won't do. Today's major demand is for a devoted, responsible, Christian leadership. In the March of Man, all human betterment, all great reforms, have gone forward in the hearts and on the shoulders of the few."

GROVE PATTERSON

He described the necessary leadership by the uncommon man as that based on "The fellowship of those who care," and itemized the "four outstanding capacities the leaders must have."

THINKING. Mr. Patterson told his listeners we need to do some hard thinking about the Russian program and the westward advance of so-called communism. "The Communist state is best described as a police state," he said. "Communism is a front-door name for a back-door conspiracy. We are confronted by a conspiracy aimed at conquering all nations. Russia is not at the moment making war 'on' any country, but is making war 'in' every country not yet conquered by her."

He ascribed much of communism's success in Russia as being due to the absence of a free press and quoted a high Russian official who once said to him, "Having seized the government, we bolsheviks are not likely to turn over to anyone the right to criticize us."

Mr. Patterson said the way to deal with oncoming communism is through competition. "We must prove that our economic system does more good things for more people than any other; because in the long run the better system will survive," he said.

COURAGE. The speaker described Americans today as being jittery and afraid and called for courage to keep a sense of perspective. He cited events of history in which crises have come and gone.

GREAT IMAGINATION. Mr. Patterson said, "We shall have durable peace when we are thoughtful, wise, and imaginative enough to devise a federation of the nations, regulated by a world government with power to act; strong where the United States has been weak; definite where the United Nations has been indefinite; with no veto power and with an international police force."

He said we must live not in the past nor present, but the future.

"The hope of world government and eventual disarmament lies in an awakened public opinion," he said. "World government will become a reality when we have created an ocean of public opinion upon which to launch the ship of great ideas."

RELIGIOUS FAITH. Mr. Patterson quoted Herbert Hoover as saying, "The issue is decency against indecency in public life. What would this nation's founding fathers have thought about the honor of five percenters, mink coats, home freezers, and free hotel bills, of favoritism in government loans and contracts, and evildoers who escape prosecution by bribing officials?"

Mr. Patterson ended his speech by saying, "It is the uncommon man, composed of men like you who will stand against the wholly mechanistic, and atheistic conception of life which is the substance of communism.

Newspaper Week

Mr Patterson was brought here to speak in connection with the Rotary Club's observance of "National Newspaper Week", Oct. 1-8 He was introduced by Perry Bachelder, program chairman for this month.

Visiting Rotarians were Herbert L. Laube of Auburn, N. Y., Ken Miller of Bedford, Ind., and Dr. Earnest W. Weiss, who recently returned to the United States from Nanchang, China, where he was a medical missionary.

Other guests included Grant Vietsch and Owen Gove of New York City, Bruce A. Falls of Bucyrus, Chauncey Terry of Mt. Gilead, Dick Dahn of Cleveland, and Joe Bearden, Harry L. Dowler, Robert Boger, Herbert A. Petrich, K. W. Roush, Bob Byrd, William Ellis, Clifford E. Boettcher, John W. Dowler, Wayne H. Kuhn, Wendel B. Ward, Clyde L. Pierson and A. L. McClain, all of Marion.

Jessup

the Communists have attacked me with a violence equal to that displayed by the senator from Wisconsin and with far greater justification.

"The evidence that I will introduce will unmask Senator McCarthy's alleged proof as a mixture of barefaced falsehoods, distortions and misrepresentations."

Jessup suggested the subcommittee "or some other appropriate government authority consider whether this disregard for truth under oath, was or was not deliberate.

Both Under Oath

Like Jessup, McCarthy had testified under oath.

At the outset of his testimony, Jessup said:

"I will begin with the unqualified declaration that Senator McCarthy's allegation that I was affiliated with six Communist fronts is false—his photostats notwithstanding."

Jessup said he is proud of his membership in "a number of organizations which I think do indicate my affinities." He listed among them the American Legion, the American Bar Association, Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the Foreign Policy Association.

Declaring that an objective discussion of his activities should cover such organizations as he cited, Jessup added:

"For once I agree with Senator McCarthy when he said to the committee last Thursday, 'I am sure we must take the entire history of this man.'"

But McCarthy, Jessup declared, "prefers to determine my affinities on the basis of organizations with which I have no active connection rather than those in which I am or have been a vigorous participant.'"

Jessup said McCarthy's allegations against him were aimed at "trying to make people believe that I have been and am ready to sell out my country to the Soviet Union." Jessup said he would, in the course of his testimony, disprove those allegations.

The ambassador said he was ready to "accept the evaluation of this committee on the senator's plea that his case against me should rest on the cumulative effect of what he called his evidence."

HITS 1949 POLICY. Opposing Senate approval of Ambassador Philip Jessup as United States delegate to the United Nations, Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, charges (above) that the U. S. State Department in 1949 accepted a Far Eastern policy which "followed the Communist line right down to the last period."

French Troops Retreat In Indo-China

SAIGON, INDO-CHINA, Oct. 3—(AP)—French army headquarters announced tonight the evacuation of Binhlu as Communist-led Vietminh troops smashed to within 30 miles of Laichau, capital of that federation in their first fall offensive.

The army communique said that French forces were compelled to evacuate another unidentified outpost nine miles northeast of Inghialo, as 12 Vietminh battalions stabbed into the remote northwest corner of Indo-China.

Final Approval Is Due Today On Defense Bill

$57 Billion Measure Ironed Out By Senate-House Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—A $57,200,000,000 bill to run the Defense Department this year was earmarked today for early and final congressional approval.

A Senate - House conference committee, working late last night, ironed out virtually all disputed points in the huge peacetime defense measure It whittled $4,000,000,000 off a Senate-approved $5,000,000,000 funds for extra air power.

Only one out of an original 57 differences between the Senate and House bills remained unresolved.

Both Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), and Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) said Pentagon leaders had failed to produce detailed plans for spending the five billions.

Should Be Enough

"And the extra billion should meet all demands until Congress meets again in January," Mahon added.

O'Mahoney, who had pushed the air fund through the Senate, said that instead of plans for more air power, the Pentagon sent up details on buying real estate for the Air Force and financing public works for the Navy. But O'Mahoney had said last week, after the Senate passed a tax bill far below the amount President Truman requested, that he would agree to trim the extra Air Force funds in the appropriation bill. Only in that way, he said, could this year's budget be balanced.

Mahon said two-thirds of the extra billion would be earmarked for the Air Force and one third for the Navy's air arm.

The bill, carrying military funds for the fiscal year which started July 1, still needs final Senate and House okays.

Provides New Weapons

O'Mahoney assured reporters that the bill provided ample funds to provide the "fantastic new secret weapons" President Truman and others have been talking about. The five billions for the Air Force was originally reported linked to development of the new weapons. The one remaining difference was a House provision directing that thousands of World War II veterans, recalled to duty against their wishes since the Korean war started, be released after 12 months' service.

These are World War II veterans in the inactive or voluntary reserve who were not on training pay status, as are national guardsmen and naval reservists of unit-owned aircraft and will be open to pilots and student pilots.

Another training cycle will be started by CAP officers and enlisted personnel late in January.

C.A.P. Classes Set in Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Six courses for training in the national defense program will be conducted here this fall by the local Civil Air Patrol unit, CAP officers announced today.

For the first time since the end of World War II, the local unit will accept women as well as men and high school students for training in units under separate supervision. The courses will run from six to eight weeks, concluding with an examination for official credit with governmental departments.

A class in novice class radio license training will be held on Monday nights at the CAP's building at the county fairgrounds here for men, women and students. The license permits operation of licensed stations in automobile and homes.

School students will receive training at the Ohio National Guard Armory Tuesday in aeronautics and military drill. A special class will be formed of students past 15 years of age. The eight-week course includes a Link trainer flight as well as an actual air flight with parental permission by qualified CAP pilots.

A course in rifle marksmanship will be held Wednesday and a women's class in administrative procedure will be held every other Thursday.

Flight B on the CAP will meet on Thursday to conduct a course for pilots, mechanics and aircrewmen with a course in Link trainer operation and navigation. This course also will include other activity pertinent to operation

Won't Avert War, Says AEC Head

Atomic Weapons Not Enough, Dean Believes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission has put a "flat no" to theories that an immediate big scale switch to atomic weapons might avert another war and halve 1952 military costs.

But AEC Chairman Gordon Dean did say the United States now has tactical atomic weapons, and made a cautious disclosure that new atomic weapons are being produced.

Dean testified last week behind the closed doors of a House Appropriations Subcommittee. The testimony was made available to a reporter today. Dean was asked by Rep. Thomas (D-Tex) about recent statements that an extra six or 10 billion dollars given to the AEC now might avert a war and save up to half of the 1952 military budget. Thomas did not say whom he was quoting.

Refutes Theory

But the answer, Dean replied, is a "flat no."

He said the extra money could not be translated immediately into more atomic weapons because of the time factor involved in producing them.

Thomas then asked Dean if he knew of any supplies of raw materials by which atomic bombs could be produced by the thousands.

"I hate to go into figures," Dean answered. "I would rather not talk of numbers."

Thomas then wanted to know about a prediction made in a Senate speech Sept. 18 by Senator McMahon (D-Conn) that if, as McMahon urged, the United States "mass produced" atomic weapons the cost of an atomic bomb would "become less than the cost of a single tank."

McMahon called for all-out atomic weapons production, saying that if $6,000,000,000 a year were spent on atomic energy instead of the $800,000,000 spent last fiscal year savings at some future time he did not specify would reach 30 to 40 billion dollars a year. "Important savings" would result next year, McMahon said.

While the cost of an atomic bomb probably can be and is being brought down, Dean replied to Thomas, it would eventually be closer to the cost of "a few tanks" instead of the cost of a single tank. He said he meant the big, expensive tanks.

Publishers Of Bucyrus Paper Buy 3 More

Freedom Newspapers Inc., publishers of the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum, today announced the addition of three Texas newspapers to its group of Texas dailies. The United Press reported from Santa Ana, Calif.

Announcement of the purchase was made by R. C. Hoiles, president of the corporation.

Freedom Newspapers has purchased the Rio Grande valley newspapers McAllen Valley evening Monitor, Harlingen Valley Morning Star and Brownsville Herald from Publisher Leo H. Owens.

The purchase price was not revealed. The deal brought the number of daily papers under Hoiles' management to 10.

The publisher's announcement said the combined circulation of the Texas papers was 40,000, giving Freedom Newspapers a total circulation of more than 135,000.

Owens also publishes the Richmond, Calif., Independent, but it was not involved in the transaction with Hoiles' firm.

Freedom Newspapers also publishes the Santa Ana Register; Marysville, Calif., Appeal-Democrat; Colorado Springs, Colo., Gazette-Telegraph; Bucyrus, Telegraph-Forum; Odessa, Tex., American; Pampa Tex., Daily News and Clovis, N. M., News-Journal.

In addition to newspapers, the firm owned by Hoiles and members of his family, controls radio station KPDN in Pampa, Tex.

Probe Alleged Plot To Bribe Tax Collectors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — (AP) —House investigators open public hearings today on preliminary evidence which they said hinted at an organized plot to corrupt highly-placed federal tax collectors.

Internal Revenue commissioner John B Dunlap was called as the first witness by Rep. King (D-Calif). King is chairman of a ways and means subcommittee which since last August has been looking into alleged irregularities in administration of the internal revenue laws.

Witnesses have been subpenaed from New York, St. Louis, Boston and the District of Columbia. Their names have not been disclosed.

The hearings follow recent actions which some tax collection officials have been suspended, or indicted on charges of mal-administration of their office.

In a statement issued earlier this week, King said the committee's investigations thus far "tend to indicate that there may have been in the making an organized plot to corrupt collectors in several districts."

From the eastern front AP correspondent Stan Carter reported Korean Reds fired "every kind of mortar and artillery" shell at an American tank-infantry team probing a valley near Heartbreak Ridge. An Allied officer said the Reds fired "an extremely heavy amount" of ammunition.

The U. S. force was driven back to its own lines. The valley of Yanggu.

Red artillery and mortar fire continued to hammer at Allied troops clinging to the slopes of Heartbreak Ridge. Communists hold the summit.

Plan Lessons On Furniture Refinishing

Plans are under way for a series of lessons on furniture refinishing to be a part of the home demonstration program in Marion County for the fall and winter, Miss Lois Simons, Marion County home demonstration agent, has announced.

Since a number of women in the county have said they are considering refinishing or painting furniture this fall as one means of making their homes more attractive, the special classes are being set up so that they might learn the procedure for doing the job.

The program will include a series of four lessons to be held the latter part of this month. Those participating will work on a piece of furniture, removing the old finish, making minor repairs, preparing for the new finish, and then applying it.

It will be sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, which is established by law for anyone not enrolled in a land-grant college.

Those who would like to enroll or secure further information may contact Miss Simons at her office in the postoffice building in Marion prior to Oct. 6.

Will Help Conduct Residential Drive

Chest Women's Division Leaders Named

VOLUNTEER LEADERS OF THE WOMEN'S DIVISION for the 1952 Red Feather drive are pictured above. In the front row, left to right, are Mrs. Albert Merkle, Mrs. John Waddell, co-chairwoman, Mrs. B H. Buettin, general advisor; and Mrs. James McGlew, co-chairwoman. In the back row are Mrs. Robert Bartlett, Mrs. Jay H. Maish Jr., Mrs. Richard Myers, Mrs. A. M. Hamilton, and Mrs. A. H. Schnaufer. Another of the leaders in the division, Mrs. Paul Hunt, was unable to be present for the picture.

Ten women leaders in Marion have volunteered their services to help conduct the residential drive in the 1952 Community Chest campaign, it was announced by Charles D. Harmon, executive committee member for the campaign.

The goal for the residential solicitation this year is $4,888.20, five percent of the total goal for 1952—$97,764.

The campaign in Marion residential sections will be divided into six wards and Vernon Heights.

Co-chairwomen of the Women's Division are Mrs. John Waddell and Mrs. James McGlew. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Robert Bartlett Mrs. A. M. Hamilton, Mrs. Paul Hunt, Mrs J. H. Maish Jr., Mrs. Albert Merkle, Mrs. Richard Myers, and Mrs A. H Schnaufer. Mrs. B H. Buettin will serve in the capacity of general advistor.

"It is our hope to be able to visit every home in Marion this year," said Mr. Harmon. "We are expecting a small contribution from the lady of the house,' even though her husband might have already given at his place of business—and it is only through these contributions that we will be able to meet our over-all goal and help Marion's Red Feather Agencies keep up their notable work."

Mr. Harmon said women who will serve as precinct captains will be announced at a later date.

GROTTO PLANS PARTY

A social date on the calendar of Kadgar Grotto is a hard-time party to be held Saturday, Nov 3. Plans for the event were made at a meeting Monday night in the Grotto Mall. The party will be a Halloween event in the lodge hall and refreshments will include pumpkin pie, doughnuts and cider. A prize will be given for the worst-looking costumes worn by men and women.

Let Printing Contract For Wyandot Ballots

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—A contract for the printing election ballots for Wyandot County has been awarded to the Eichelberger Printing Company of Bucyrus. The order was for a total of 47,445 ballots said Attorney William J. Hunter, clerk of the Wyandot County Board of Elections.

The list included the township and municipal officials ballets, the county and local school boards and nine special questions or issues ballots.

The special issues are as follows: state constitutional amendment increasing the number of probate judges, a local option vote in Wharton on the sale of beer under C and D permits; a renewal of two mill levies in the Wharton school district; the renewal of three mill levies in the Antrim, Nevada, Marseilles and Harpster-Little Sandusky school districts; an additional two mill levy on the Carey school district and an $85,000 bond issue in the Sycamore district for addition to the school.

Here's a Sandwich Any Boy Will Relish

TOMORROW'S space ship pilots — your children — run best when they're full of jet-propelled energy. For them, luncheon can be just another meal or it can be one of those healthful, sustaining ones that are so nice to come home to from school at noon.

The difference lies in having savory, flavory items like the baked-bean-cheese-bacon sandwich, accompanied by sliced tomatoes, milk, fruit and baker's cup cake on the menu. It's a meal that sets a new high in goodness and gets the children off to a zooming start back to school.

BAKED BEAN-CHEESE-BACON SANDWICH

6 sandwich buns
3 T soft butter or margarine
¾ cup baked beans
6 thin slices processed cheese
6 slices bacon

Cut buns in half and spread butter on cut side of bun halves Spread 2 tablespoons beans on bottom half of each buttered bun, top with 1 slice cheese. Cut bacon slices in half Criss-cross bacon over cheese. Place sandwiches on a cookie sheet and toast under low broiler heat for eight minutes, or until cheese melts and bacon is crisp. Toast bun tops when sandwiches are almost done and place over them to serve Yields 6 sandwiches.

In the Service

Pfc. Robert Humbert, son of William Humbert of Carey, has been assigned to duty in the Far East and sailed from Camp Stoneman last week. His wife, the former Jeanne Allen of Carey, is staying with his cousin, Don White and family near San Francisco, while making plans for her return home. She expects to live in Indianapolis.

Pvt. Charles L. Gray, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gray of Caledonia, has been assigned to the Third Armored Division at Fort Knox, Ky., for basic training. He recently completed processing at Fort George C Meade, Md. During basic training, Pvt Gray will undergo eight weeks of training in basic military subjects. He also will receive eight weeks schooling in advanced subjects as well as fundamental training for his branch of the service.

Pvt. Jay L. Gettys, 20, nephew of Mrs. Estella Street of 225 West Fairground street and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gettys, has completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Texas.

He now will be assigned to an Air Force technical school for training in a specialized field. Pvt. Gettys enlisted in the Air Force last July 9. Prior to that he had attended Harding High School and was employed at the Marion Engineer Depot.

Grange Marks Booster Night

Teachers Guests Of Bethlehem Group

Booster Night was observed, with a special program being presented, when Bethelehem Grange met Wednesday night, Sept. 26, in the Grange hall. Approximately 126 members and guests were present. Special guests were teachers of both the Waldo and Prospect schools. Those from Waldo were introduced by C. D. Pilkington, superintendent, and those from Prospect by C. F. Forry.

The program included a song by the group; a welcome by Mrs. O. C. Kaelber, lecturer; reading of the national master's booster night message by Miss Marie Bender, a paper by Mrs. Esther Berringer; saxophone solo by Janet Ullmer, accompanied by Mrs. John Salisbury, instrumental music teacher at Waldo School; roll call response; reading by Nancy Augenstein; readings from a scrap book by Robert Dunlap; selections by the Moyer Sisters quartet, composed of Mrs Clata Mae Weisman, Mrs Mary Lue Laucher, Miss Jane Moyer and Miss Louise Moyer; agricultural notes by Dallas Cornett; contests; a talk on legislative matters by Ralph Williams, legislative agent for the Grange; and a number by a trumpet trio composed of Robert, Woodrow and Oscar Kaelber, accompanied by Mrs. Woodrow Kaelber The lecturer closed the program by giving the quotation, "Little Word of Wisdom," and the group sang W. E. Selander of LaRue, a guest, also gave a short talk and a reading.

The Grange youth chairman, Mrs. Hazel Rinehart, reported on progress being made in plans for a declamation contest, an announcement was made of Pomona Grange meeting to be held Oct. 6 at Whetstone Grange hall with Bethelehem Grange scheduled to present part of the program, and Miss Marie Bender, Little Theater chairman, announced the Grange will present its play, "Love Hits Wilbur," at Progressive Grange meeting this week. Plans were made for inspection to be held at the next meeting, Oct. 10, with E. A. Williams, county deputy, as inspecting officer. A potluck supper will be served, with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fogle and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Oswald serving on the refreshment committee.

Scouters At Area Event

14 From Council Meet in Dayton

Fourteen Scouters from the Harding Area Council attended the annual meeting of the Fourth Region, Boy Scouts of America, comprising Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, at the Biltmore Hotel in Dayton, Sept. 28-29.

Total attendance was approximately 400 Scouters from the 43 local councils of the region.

Representing the Harding Council were: Dr. Robert T. Gray, council president, and Mrs. Gray; Robert T Mason, national council representative and member of the regional executive committee, Dr. and Mrs James Greetham Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Katz; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carroll, James Frew; Scout Executive C. G. Wheeldon and Mrs. Wheeldon; Field Executive Robert Cheetham, and Commissioner John Teeter. Dr. and Mrs. "Tim" Carns, formerly of Marion, and now stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Base, joined the local delegation for the final dinner meeting of the convention.

Theme of the program was "Forward on Liberty's Team." In addition to numerous prominent business and professional men from within the region, Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive, and Dr. Ray O. Wyland, national director of church relationships were principal speakers during the two-day session.

The closing banquet program included inspirational pageantry depicting the progress of Scouting in Region IV during its 30-year history, a court of honor at which five Silver Antelope awards were presented; and the principal closing address by Chief Schuck on the subject "Life, Liberty, and Happiness."

Dr. Gray, holder of the Silver Antelope, Scouting's highest regional award for distinguished service to boyhood, was a participant in the court of honor and presented the Antelope to Elsworth Augustus of Cleveland.

50 Animals To Be Exhibited In Junior Steer Show, Sale

Approximately 50 steers, the projects of 30 4-H and F F.A. members from Marion, Delaware, Morrow and Crawford Counties, will be exhibited and sold at the fourth annual Marion Junior Steer Show and Sale Oct. 19. It will be held at the Marion Producers Livestock Cooperative yards on West Center street.

Six of the steers were exhibited at the Ohio State Fair in August. Many others were exhibited at local county fairs.

The grand champion steer at the Marion County Fair will be in the show and sale. This steer belongs to Max Strine of Clarion. Max's steer was graded "A" and placed fifth in the Ohio State Junior Fair, medium weight Angus class.

Dallas Campbell, who was the first person to enter his steers in the Marion Junior Steer Show and Sale, placed third in the medium weight Hereford class at the Ohio State Fair.

Others who participated in the State Fair and who will have their animals in the Marion Junior Steer Show and Sale are Wallace Linn Jr., Morral F F.A., two Shorthorn steers; Wanda Jones, a Morrow County 4-H member, a heavy weight Hereford, and Edwin Harsh of Radnor F.F.A. who exhibited two Angus steers.

J. H. Warner, extension service beef specialist of Ohio State University, will judge the show beginning at 1 p. m. The sale will be at 7 30 p m.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

"Fine," my father commented, his good humor restored. "Have them come right in and show them where you want—no, wait a second. We must have it in a room where the conversation over it cannot be heard from outside Which is the best for that purpose?"

My answer to that was prompt.

"Dicky's," I said, and he relayed my answer to my husband in short order.

"Richard, please take the men down to your room and have them install the telepone there wherever it is most convenient to you. Ask them to give you an estimate of how long the job will take."

"Okay," my husband said, and then he guided a procession of workmen through the living room and down the corridor to his own room.

"Do you want me to stay down there with them?" he asked my father in muted tones as he passed us.

"It would be better," my father answered. "Take one of the boys down with you and send him back with the answer when the men have looked over the job and decided how long it will take them to do it."

Dicky looked over at the boys, and saw, as I did, that Bill and Mildred Grey already were seated close together and absorbed in each other, and at Hank who was laughing and talking in muted tones to Bess Conway. His lips quirked, and he sent the younger boys into the seventh heaven by calling on them.

"Junior and Roderick, come down to my room as soon as you can," he directed, and both boys were instantly on their feet.

"Can do now," Junior said.

"Good lads!" his father commented, and went on with the telephone men, while Junior and Roderick caught up with him before he had reached the door leading into the corridor.

Roderick returned ten minutes later, the pride of his office strong upon him.

"The man in charge says it will take a little less than two hours," he reported to my father. "He says they will work as fast as possible and may be able to cut their time down even more."

My father looked at his watch and nodded his satisfaction.

"That will do very nicely," he said, and with an "Excuse me, please," Roderick made a hurried exit in the direction of Dicky's room.

My father looked at me with a smile quirking his lips, a smile shared by Katharine and the Underwoods The young people had heard nothing of the colloquy.

"Smack on top of the world," Lillian said.

"With his feet hanging off a fleecy cloud," her husband supplemented.

"Oh, to be that young and enthusiastic!" Katharine said with a little sigh.

Harry Underwood glared at her.

"Why do you have to bring that up?" he queried, and my father laughed, a rare sound with him, and then sobered quickly.

"At least they're enjoying themselves, even if the rest of us are conscious of chills affecting our feet over this thing," he said.

Girl Scouts Plan Course In Leadership

A basic leadership course opening Oct. 11, and the observance of Girl Scout Week, starting Oct 28, will launch the fall and winter activities of the Girl Scouts.

The leadership course will be held in the afternoon at the Girl Scout office and anyone interested in becoming a leader is asked to call the office any day between the hours of 9 a.m and 5 p.m Serving as leaders now are former Girl Scouts, women who have had experience in other organizations and who are interested in girls' activities.

Five new Brownie troops have been organized recently, Miss Mary K Stone, Girl Scout director said today. Also, she states, there are a number of girls interested in becoming Scouts, but in order to do this, more leaders are needed.

Basic training for new leaders and advanced training for experienced leaders are provided by the council through courses sponsored by the members.

The Girl Scout organization is an agency of the Marion Community Chest.

Dodgers, Giants In Do-or-Die Game Today

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Today is flag day in the National League.

The entire season is wrapped up in today's game for those old flaming baseball antagonists—Brooklyn's redoubtable Dodgers and New York's miracle Giants.

Deadlocked at one playoff victory apiece, the bitter interborough rivals clashed head-on in the rubber game this afternoon with each manager shooting the works and no quarter given.

The game shaped up as a burning battle for the pennant between two of the game's finest righthanders, Sal Maglie of the Giants and Don Newcombe of the Dodgers. With so much at stake, neither pilot, Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers nor Leo Durocher of the Giants, had much choice but to come in with his ace.

Maglie, winner of 23 games and loser of only six, has beaten the Dodgers five times in six decisions.. He was 4-0 against them last year. Newcombe (20-9) has been almost as effective against the Giants whom he's whipped five times in seven starts this year.

Giants Choice

Despite Brooklyn's stunning 10-0 victory yesterday, the Giants were a 6½ to 5 choice to turn the tables and earn the right to meet the Yankees in an all-New York World Series starting tomorrow at 1 p. m. (E.S.T.).

The weatherman predicted "fair and warmer" with the temperature in the low 80's and moderately fresh winds, contrary to the gloomy, rainy weather which marred yesterday's game.

Experts conceded a slight edge to the Giants because Maglie was to pitch with his normal three-days rest. He last worked Saturday, shutting out the Braves in Boston on five hits.

On the other hand, Newcombe hurled a shutout in Philadelphia the same night and then, in an emergency, added five and two-thirds more innings of shutout ball in relief on Sunday. That meant three calls in five days for Big Don and his fourth in an eight-day span.

The 240-pound Dodger ace, who came out of Philly complaining of a sore arm, said his arm was still tight yesterday. Preacher Roe, brilliant but frail Dodger southpaw with 22 victories, might have been the logical starter under those circumstances, but the 33-year-oldster has not had his required rest. He last pitched Sunday.

While both pilots purposely refrained from appearing too optimistic, each felt his team would emerge victorious.

"We've got 'em on the run," said Dressen happily. "My boys are back to slashin' and slammin'. Duke Snider is swinging again and Gil Hodges semes to have pulled out of his slump. Their failure to hit has been hurting us."

Leo was not as exhuberant, but was just as confident.

"Barber" Ready

"The barber will be shaving tomorrow," he predicted.

That was Leo's way of saying that Maglie, nicknamed "The Barber" by his mates, would do a lathering job on the Dodgers.

Asked what he thought of yesterday's shutout defeat, in which Young Clem Labine handcuffed the Giants with six hits to end their eight-game winning streak, Dutocher replied:

"There's nothing we can do about it. We just got licked. Labine pitched a good game against us. That's all. If you've got to lose, that's the way to do it. Not by a 2-1 score."

Labine, 25-year-old curve baller from Woonsocket, R. I., pitched a masterful game as he gave the Dodgers their first victory in their last six Polo Grounds starts. He walked three, fanned three and pitched himself out of some tight spots in the early innings.

For a youngster whose big league experience consists of a little over two months, the lean righthander showed a lot of poise and coolness under fire. He came to Brooklyn from St. Paul of the American Association July 23.

The Giants threatened to break through in the second when Bobby Thomson doubled and moved to third as Willie Mays singled with one out. Labine escaped unscathed by getting Wes Westrum on an infield pop and Pitcher Sheldon Jones on a roller.

Crowd to Feet

Labine brought the crowd of 38,609 to its feet with a superb pitching performance in the next inning. An error, single and walk filled the bases with two out. Then with a full count on the dangerous Thomson, the kid calmly served the Giants' hottest hitter a curve that Bobby swung at and missed.

While Clem was carving out his fifth win against one loss, Jackie Robinson and his slugging mates were clubbing Jones and reliefers George Spencer and Al Corwin for 13 hits including four home runs.

Robinson led the onslaught with a home run and two singles. His homer got the Dodgers off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning. His first single shelled Jones from the mound in the third. His second single drove in a run in the fifth.

Al Walker, subbing for the injured Roy Campanella, had his best day as a Dodger with three hits including a tremendous homer in the ninth. Gil Hodges crashed his 40th homer and Andy Pafko walloped his 30th.

EARLY FORECAST. Walking up and down the sidelines while Harding was fooling the dopesters and knocking off highly-touted Columbus Central, 26-19, last Friday night took us back to a conversation with Coach Pete Howison severals months ago.

It was at a banquet hnoring Edison Junior High School athletes that we huddled with Edison Coach George Whitehead and Pete. The Prexy coach was then in the process of spring football practice and was telling how the lads were coming along.

Pete said, "This outfit has more spirit than any Harding team I've coached. On paper we don't figure to be too strong, but we'll do all right with what we got."

And watching an out-played Columbus team look slightly bewildered at times we'll go along with Pete's early forecast.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE. After watching their spirited Prexies in the game, Howison and his assistants George Keel, John Luginbuhl, and Bob Auble, have enjoyed seeing the pictures of the game.

Howison said, "we looked even better in the pictures than I had expected. Some of our fellows played even a better game than we were aware of."

But with a rugged Fostoria coming in Friday night, Harding will have little time to dwell on their past showing. The Redmen will be in a fighting mood after bowing to Fremont Ross, 26-0, last week. Fremont moved from ninth to eighth place in the state ratings this week.

NO SQUAWK. Although Coach Ray Robbins and his assistants were angry at the official that made the mistake in the St. Mary-Lima St. Rose game, ruling the Irish had lost the ball on downs when actually it was fourth and less than a yard to go, they plan no complaint to Commissioner Emswiler.

"One of those things," Ray said after the error very likely cost the Fighting Irish a game.

"I" Formation. Coach Frank Leahy's Notre Dame team astounded the fans with the "I" formation in running over Indiana. Here is the way the offense lines up:

Against the Hoosiers, the backfield foursome all raced to the right, but Leahy claims the backs can romp in either direction, in any combination.

St. Mary Adds Ashley A's To Grid Schedule

An additional grid game has been added to St. Mary High School's schedule, school officials announced today.

The Irish will meet Elm Valley High School of Ashley at Harding Stadium in a finale on Nov. 9. Coach Ray Robbins said the two schools also would meet next winter during their regular cage schedules. The Ashley crew eliminated St. Mary's cage crew last year in the finals of the district Class B tourney at Westerville.

The Elm Valley grid powerhouse already has rolled to three wins with lopsided scores over Richwood, Utica and Johnstown. The extra game gives St. Mary a nine-game schedule.

Indian Rooter Must Pay the Penalty

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3—(AP)—Harold Spieth's faith in the Cleveland Indians cost him a four-mile hike—on the hind end of a wheelbarrow.

Passenger in the wheelbarrow was Louis Craddock, 39, a painter, who bet Spieth the Indians wouldn't win the pennant.

The 23-year-old Spieth had to push him from Bennett's Corners to the center of nearby North Royalton. The trip, with the last eight-tenths of a mile up a steep hill, took two hours.

Iberia Edged By Sulphur Springs

Special to The Star

IBERIA, Oct. 3—A strong Sulphur Springs team handed Iberia its second loss in seven games here yesterday as the Presidents were edged, 10-9.

The locals outhit the winners, 12-10 but six errors by the Iberia team aided the Sulphur Springs cause. Dick Maidens paced the losers at the plate with three for three, including a home run. Dareld Rinehart also belted a homer for Iberia.

The Prexies play Green Camp this afternoon at Green Camp.

Prexies Lose Reserve Tilt

Harding's reserve football team dropped an 18-6 decision to the Mansfield futures last Saturday in Mansfield.

Two runs of 90 yards apiece proved the difference. Yoakum and Jones each tallied on the long gallops.

Harding's only TD came on a five-yard run by John McKinstry in the second quarter. The score was 6-6 at halftime.

Prexies, Irish Nurse Bruises Before Tough Games Friday

By JOHN SHORT

Hopes of Harding High School football fans soared today with the announcement that Jimmy Russell, fleetfooted ball carrier, probably would be set for action Friday night against Fostoria.

St. Mary, however, was stunned by the loss of Dave Jackson, 160-pound linebacking stalwart. He is shelved with a sprained ankle suffered Saturday night in the Lima St. Rose fracas and definitely is out of the Tiffin Calvert game Friday.

Finnegan Injured

The Irish offense also may be running without the services of smashing Jim Finnegan, first string fullback. Finnegan, injured in a practice session Monday night, was found to have fractured a finger in two places. Physicians say the injury may not hurt his defensive work but could limit his ball-carrying. Dave Carr, spearhead of the St. Mary attack against St. Rose, is slowed down with bruises received Saturday night, but should be in top shape by gametime.

Harding fans had feared Russell was out of the Prexy lineup after being carried from the field Friday night with an ankle injury. The injury came after he had raced to two touchdowns and ripped off 24 yards gained from scrimmage.

After soaking the ankle repeatedly and careful handling over the weekend, Russell was able to attend practice last night. Coach Pete Howison reported he was without pads and that no chances were being taken on aggravating the ankle injury. He said, however, Russell might be available for the Friday tilt at the stadium.

Bibler Recovered

Doug Bibler, 135-pound signal caller, who also was helped from the field Friday was not injured seriously, Howison said. A cramp had tied up his leg in the final minutes of play and he needed assistance in getting from the field. He probably will be in top shape Friday.

Jim Chapman, defensive back, is expected to return to action after a two-week lay-off. He was injured in the final minutes of the Bowling Green game and has almost completely recovered from a bad leg cut. Five stitches were required to close the wound. Some of the Prexy gridders are stopped at the present with colds and slight touches of flu.

Friday night games pit Harding against Fostoria in a Buckeye League tilt at the stadium and St. Mary against Tiffin Calvert powerhouse at Tiffin.

BOWLING RESULTS

Floreine Clark rolled a blistering 205 to cop single game laurels in the Monday Night Ladies' League at the Palace Recreation Center. Her sister, Katy Cafagno with a 511 annexed series honors. Gene Mull hit a 234-668 for top spot in the Utility Loop while the Night Shift League was paced by Gene Mull with a 234-668. Morris hit the top in the Palace League Saturday with a 218-558. In the Mercantile League at the Marion alleys, Ted Jackson took single game laurels with a 231 while a 563 by Kirby won the series title. Individual scores follow:

Sands, Olson In Top TV Bout Tonight

CHICAGO, Oct. 3 — (AP)—Dave Sands of Australia, tabbed by experts as the best fighter to invade these shores since the late Marcel Cerdan, makes his U. S. ring debut in Chicago Stadium tonight against Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu.

A victory for the 25-year-old Sands, the British Empire middleweight champion, would open the way for a near future match with Rocky Graziano, to be climaxed in a title bout with Ray Robinson probably in June.

Sands defeated Olson, 23, the Hawaiian titleholder, in Sydney in March, 1950. He has scored 56 knockouts in winning 87 of 97 pro bouts and is rated by the National Boxing Association as the No 1 middleweight contender.

Tonight's bout is a 10-rounder and will be televised on a national hookup.

HomecomingGame Set for Forest

The annual Forest homecoming game will be held Friday night at Memorial Field. Miss Carolyn Baum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ray Baum, was elected queen by the student body. Miss Baum is a senior in the academic course. Her attendants are Miss Janice Musgrave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Musgrave, and Miss Wanda Musgrave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Musgrave. The queen and her attendants will be presented during the intermission of the Forest-Kenton game.

Forest, undefeated, has victories over Elida, Pandora and Delphos Jefferson. Kenton has won over Bluffton and lost to St. Marys and Van Wert.

New Bloomington Downs Waldo, 15-2

New Bloomington thumped Waldo, 15-2 in a Marion County baseball league game yesterday at Waldo. The game was called after six innings because of darkness.

It was the sixth straight win for the New Bloomington crew. Tied at 2 all at the start of the sixth inning, the winners poured across 13 runs.

Persinger was the winning hurler while Waldo's Shoaf was charged with the loss. New Bloomington will play Morral tomorrow night at the New Bloomington diamond.

Brewers, Royals Even in Series

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 3—(AP)—After tying the Little World Series at two games each with a 4-2 victory last night, the Milwaukee Brewers will take the field against Montreal tonight behind Ernie Johnson, best pitcher in the American Association.

Hamp Coleman is expected to work for the pennant winners and play-off champions of the International League.

The Brewers rapped three Montreal pitchers for eight hits last night and hung the loss on Southpaw Chris Van Cuyk, his second of the series.

Presidents Taylor, Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison, Theodore Roosevelt and Wilson each had two wives. President Buchanan was a bachelor.

Picks M.S.U. Over Bucks

Also Favors Illini To Top Wisconsin

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Oct. 3 — (AP)—Having sorrowfully under-estimated Notre Dame and Michigan State; here's another Midwest stab by a scatter-shot swami:

Illinois 20, Wisconsin 14—that is if it doesn't rain. And if it does rain, Illinois doesn't try to pass, like last year when a stolen aerial gave the Badgers a mud-coated 7-6 victory. This one could be for the Big Ten title.

Michigan State 13 Ohio State 7—gotta play the book on this one. The Buckeyes could have been beaten by Southern Methodist, only the Mustangs forgot to put handles on the ball. Any team that beats any Michigan team, 25-0, is cooking on he front burner.

Purnue 14, Iowa 13—this could go either way.

California 18, Minnesota 7—the West Coast climate and Pappy Waldorf's second-ranked Bears are too hot for Wes Fesler's frisky Gophers.

Others:

Michigan 14, Stanford 7; Northwestern 21, Army 7; Indiana 19, Pittsburgh 13; and Notre Dame 42, U. of Detroit 0 (Friday night)

Two Unbeaten In Mid-Six Loop

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., Oct. 3—The Mid-Six League still sports two unbeaten teams after last Friday's opening league action. London and Westerville both possess clean slates.

This week's headliner is the Hilliards at London affair. The hometown Red Raiders thoroughly trounced Worthington, 54-13, last week while the visitors were upsetting Grove City's highly rated Greyhounds, 20-0, in posting their initial win. Hilliards' victory helped celebrate the dedication of their new stadium and field.

Westerville's Dan Burwell, Bob Loar & Co. are on the road again—this time to Grove City. The defending champions were very impressive in handing Marysville a 21-6 setback for the Monarchs first loss at home in more than two years.

Worthington and Marysville round out the league schedule with a contest on the latter's gridiron. Both outfits will be seeking their first league victory.

Democrats Make Plans For Election

Plans for the Nov. 6 general election were discussed last night at a meeting of the Marion County Democratic Club. Thomas Finch of Green Camp, president, presided.

Clifford Welch, chairman of the county executive committee, discussed plans for the party campaign and announced a meeting of committeemen and board workers to be held in the near future.

L. M. Sager, Democratic candidate for mayor, also attended the meeting and told of his campaign progress.

The next meeting of the club will fall on election night. The party headquarters will be open and messengers service will be set up to the county Board of Elections office and refreshments will be served.

Prior to the meeting of the club, the Marion County Democratic Women's Club held its regular meeting with the president, Mrs. Daisy Haflick, presiding.

Delegates to the Ohio Federation of Democratic Women held at Columbus Sept. 7 and 8 gave reports on the convention. Those attending from the local organization were Mrs. Haflick, Mrs. Bertha Kraner, Miss Jennie Eberhard, Mrs. Thomas Finch and Mrs. S. B. Stoll. The women were guests of Gov. and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche at a tea held at the governor's mansion.

Bonfire Sets Fire To Telephone Pole

Firemen from the East Mark street station were called yesterday at 6:35 p.m. to the rear of 639 North Prospect street where a bonfire in an alley had set fire to a telephone pole. No damage was reported.

Fire Chief Owen Sifritt has issued a warning to Marionites not to burn leaves and wastepaper near other rubbish and debris which might be ignited accidentally.

ROAD HAZARD. Another car hit this 30-pound boulder on a Washington highway and the boulder freakishly bounded into the air. It came down as Leman Johnson, of Wenatchee, Wash., drove by—with the results pictured. Johnson and his wife suffered only slight cuts from flying glass. The other car had only a flat tire. This occurred in southern Washington, not far from Portland.

Problem of Thumb Sucking

Nobody can blame the mother who is confused as to how to deal with the problem of thumb-sucking.

On the one hand, many psychiatrists warn that any attempt to break the child of this habit may result in psychological frustration. Meanwhile, dentists are often positive in their assertion of the risks involved in allowing the child to continue the practice too long.

And the perplexed mother is left to decide whether to chance a dental deformity or an emotional warping.

Disinterested examination of this controversy leaves little doubt that prolonged thumb-sucking can cause an abnormal development of either jaw or both. Teeth may be pushed out of alignment, and the palate also comes in for its share of misshaping. There is the added danger of promoting a habit of mouth-breathing or that some speech defect will appear, since this difficulty is found more often in thumb-sucking than in other children.

On the other hand, there is some evidence that over-strenuous efforts to break the habit do upset the child emotionally and are unsuccessful to boot.

In any case, if the baby is well fed and kept occupied, he will, sooner or later, give up the habit of thumb-sucking.

The mother should try to keep the baby's hands busy. If the child gets tired of one toy, he should be given something else to engage his fancy and occupy his hands. If the thumb-sucking can be stopped before the child reaches the age of four years, usually no deformity occurs.

A child should be made to feel that he is loved and secure. Other forms of treatment should be started only when a child appears to be psychologically well-adjusted and living in an environment which seems to be free from tension. In these cases, it would seem that thumb-sucking is merely a habit prolonged beyond the need which originated it.

Various methods of treating this condition have been used, but most are rarely successful. The method of taking the thumb out of the child's mouth repeatedly belongs in this category.

Many parents attempt to force the child to suck his thumb until the child is eager to remove it from his mouth. This is best done in front of a mirror, and is only successful in the older child.

Ill-tasting medicine locally applied to the thumb may be effective in a few cases in younger children. Finger guards, braces, gloves, closed sleeves and similar methods to prevent the habit should be used only on very young children, if at all, and even then they are usually not effective.

In certain persistent cases, a device known as a non-removable hayrack may prove effective. It is made up of a series of thin wires, which act as a fence to prevent thumb-sucking. It must be put into the mouth by a dentist.

Questions and Answers

M. M.: I have a feeling that I am drunk and have black spots in front of my eyes. What could be the cause?

Answer: It may be that you are suffering from some form of anemia, thyroid disturbance, or chronic infection.

It would be advisable for you to have a thorough physical examination so that the exact cause may be found and proper treatment instituted.

FINED $15 FOR SPEEDING

Three Hurt In Collision Near Marion

Three persons were injured in an automobile collision yesterday at 6:20 p. m. on Route 23, about a mile south of Marion. Mrs. Hazel M. Mack of near Marion was traveling south and was attempting to turn left onto County Road 138. She failed to signal the turn and was struck by the car behind her, driven by Thomas Jordan, 28, of near Leonardsburg, patrolmen reported.

Jordan was cut on the forehead and left knee. Marsha Mack, 5, was cut on the lower lip and Eddie Mack, 6, was bruised on the forehead. The were passengers in the Mack car. The injured were released after treatment at Marion City Hospital, where they were taken by state highway patrolmen.

The front end of the Jordan car and the rear of the Mack car were damaged extensively. Mrs. Mack was cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court today on a charge of failing to signal a left turn.

Kenneth E. Acord, 22, of near Frazeysburg, driver of a truck, was arrested on Route 23 south of Marion yesterday at 5:30 p. m. on a charge of following too closely. He posted bond for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

Campbell Elected By Pension Board

Virgil Campbell was elected secretary of the Police Pension Board at a recent meeting to succeed Clyde Hardin. Captain Hardin has served as secretary of the board for 14 consecutive years. Officers for the board are elected by a vote of the police officers. A payroll of $1,966.21 for the month of August was also approved.

It takes more than 100 pounds of coffee a day to supply the needs of the United Nations secretariat's New York staff.

Booster Night Observed By Pleasant Grange

Booster Night and a reception for teachers of Pleasant School were held when Pleasant Grange met at the school Sept. 26. Wilbur Mochel, Grange master, welcomed the guests and E. E. Banning, superintendent of Pleasant schools, introduced the teachers. Talks were given by D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, and Mr. Banning.

Mrs. Marion Craven was in charge of the program which included group singing, the National Grange master message by Mr. Mochel, tap dancing by Judy Evans, accompanied on the piano by Mrs Gilas Hoch, recitation by Randy Grimm, vocal solo by Mickey Sue Mochel, history of Pleasant Grange by Mrs. Mochel, instrumental numbers by Charles, Sharon, and Sharrel Leffler and Marilyn Bunnell, poem by Mrs. Ray Dutt, baton twirling by Judy Evans, and a piano duet by Mrs Fred Leffler and Mrs. Hoch.

The group voted to contribute $5 to the Community Chest and $25 to the school.

The next meeting will be Oct 10 at 8 p.m. The annual inspection has been scheduled for Oct. 24.

Voting Light In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Oct 3—(AP)—Mayor Thomas A. Burke, Cleveland's three-term chief executive, and Juvenile Court Judge William J. McDermott will compete for the mayoral post in the Nov. 6 election.

Burke, backed by the regular Democratic organization, received 50,893 votes and Republican McDermott 38,478 in the city nonpartisan primary yesterday.

Municipal Judge Charles A Vanik, 39-year-old independent Democrat, received 26,002 votes and was eliminated.

Despite ideal weather, less than one-third of the city's 372,000 registered voters showed up at the polls.

Free public schools were established in New Haven, Conn., in 1642. Compulsory education in elementary and Latin grammar schools in Connecticut was established in 1650.

Galion Clubs Hear Address on Topic Of Optimism

GALION — Optimism was reflected in the talk by Dr. Simon M. Davidian, pastor of First Church of Christ of Shelby, when he addressed the joint meeting of Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Galion Monday. The dinner-meeting was held at Hotel Talbott.

Dr. Davidian, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, spoke on the subject, "What Can We Expect from Europe in the Present Crisis?"

The speaker said that he found differing attitudes among the people throughout Europe regarding the United States than he did on a trip several years ago. He said that instead of regarding this country as a selfish, greedy colossus, Europeans now look at us in a different light.

Four reasons why the people of Europe now think that we are sincere, and are actually trying to help them without a material return on our part were given by Dr. Davidian as follows:

Berlin Air Lift, Germans saw our planes, which a few years ago had carried bombs over Berlin as an enemy, now landing with foodstuffs, clothing and fuel;

Korean intervention, the people saw our soldiers, thousands of miles from home, fighting for no material gain, only to check the onslaught of communism;

Marshall plan, it saved Europe economically and every dollar spent on the Marshall plan by the United States has been tripled in Europe;

Japanese Peace Treaty, it has illustrated the magnanimity of our country to make peace with a former enemy on a just basis, Dr. Davidian said.

Violinist To Play On Radio Program

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Marion violinist, accompanied by Mrs H. K Mouser, will be heard on the Central District, Ohio Federation of Music Clubs, radio broadcast tonight over station WMRN. Title of the program has been changed from 8 to 8:30. Numbers presented will include "Barcarolle," MacMillen, "Midnight Bells," and "Tambourin Chinois," both by Kreisler, and "Ave Maria," Schubert.

Heard frequently in programs of music throughout the state, Miss Johnson was presented last concert season in a Lecture-Recital Club patroness program at Hotel Harding. She attended Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N. Y., and the James Milliken University at Decatur, Ill. Her parents, are Mr. and Mrs Lang Johnson of 595 East Center street She is an employe of National City Bank. Her program tonight will be a broadcast of a recording she made Monday night for the purpose The broadcast was arranged by Mrs Lewis Wills, district radio chairman.

Alleged Burglar, 6, Is Offered Home By Texas Rancher

NEW YORK, Oct 3—(AP)—A Texan who runs a 1,500-acre home for underprivileged and wayward boys in the Panhandle Country yesterday offered a home to Irvington, N. J.'s six-year-old alleged burglar.

Cal Farley, retired businessman and one-time wrestler and professional baseball player, offered to take the youngster to Boys Ranch near Tascosa, Tex. It would solve a problem for Irvington authorities.

The six-year-old, taken into custody Sunday night for the second time is two years too young to be charged with delinquency When he was first arrested Aug 9 police had to let him go because of his age.

The boy allegedly was lowered through skylights of Irvington stores by teen-age companions who paid him off in candy and movie tickets.

Fined $50 on Charge Of Punch Board Display

Leslie Thomas Wilson, 35, of 641 Silver street was fined $50 and costs today when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to a charge of possessing and displaying punch boards. Four punch boards and a merchandise board were confiscated yesterday by officers who entered the Wilson store on Silver street and found the boards on the store counter.

Wilson paid his fine and was released.

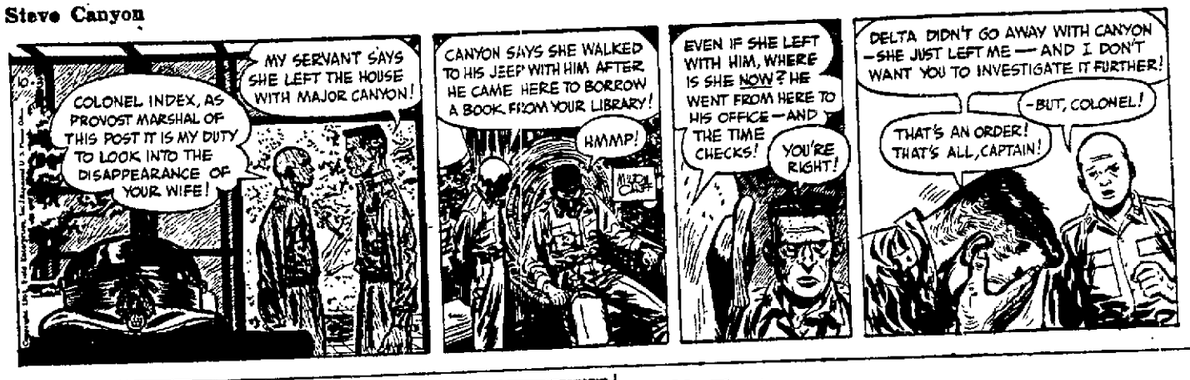
Steve Canyon By Milton Caniff



COLONEL INDEX, AS PROVOST MARSHAL OF THIS POST IT IS MY DUTY TO LOOK INTO THE DISAPPEARANCE OF YOUR WIFE!
MY SERVANT SAYS SHE LEFT THE HOUSE WITH MAJOR CANYON!
CANYON SAYS SHE WALKED TO HIS JEEP WITH HIM AFTER HE CAME HERE TO BORROW A BOOK FROM YOUR LIBRARY!
HMMP!
EVEN IF SHE LEFT WITH HIM, WHERE IS SHE NOW? HE WENT FROM HERE TO HIS OFFICE—AND THE TIME CHECKS!
YOU'RE RIGHT!
DELTA DIDN'T GO AWAY WITH CANYON—SHE JUST LEFT ME—AND I DON'T WANT YOU TO INVESTIGATE IT FURTHER!
-BUT, COLONEL!
THAT'S AN ORDER! THAT'S ALL, CAPTAIN!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

My barber has tickets for the World Series but he doesn't think Britain can take Iran in four straight games even with Uncle Sam umpiring at the plate.

* * *

He admires Attlee's corkscrew delivery but he figures Mossadegh owns the park and knows his own fences.

* * *

He says the minute Attlee pulls the rule book on nationalization he's left on base as it was his team that wrote it.

* * *

He says who can blame Mossadegh for feeling that what is good in Britain for the British is peachy in Iran for the Iranians.

* * *

Also that more than three quarters of a million young Americans have been drafted to support their impulsive old uncle as he continues to volunteer for trouble the world around.

GOODBYE, MY DARLING... GOODBYE...

Superman By Wayne Boring

SAY, OFFICER, MAYBE THOSE BULLETS DIDN'T KILL THAT PRIVATE EYE BECAUSE HE WORE A BULLET-PROOF VEST-- BUT HOW DO YOU EXPLAIN THAT SAFE FALLING DOWN ON HIM WITHOUT HURTING HIM?
IT DID?
YEAH, AND HOW ABOUT THE WAY HE LIFTED IT UP LIKE A TOY?
HE DID?
YEAH, HOW DID HE DO ALL THAT?
HOW DO I KNOW? I'M ONLY A COP! MAYBE HE'S SUPERMAN, FOR ALL I KNOW!

Gasoline Alley By Frank King

A wonderful girl, Miss Darb! She has beauty, poise and brains.
I wouldn't know.
She's not shallow, Walt. She has wide interests.
for instance?
She can talk production and finance like nobody's business
Are you sure, Ambrose she's not just a good listener?
I did do most of the talking, but she assured me she wasn't bored a bit!

Joe Palooka By Ham Fisher

DETROIT IS HAVING ITS 250TH ANNIVERSARY AND HAS OFFICIALLY ASKED FOR A JOE PALOOKA FIGHT AS PART OF ITS CELEBRATION.
JA READ THE FREE PRESS SPORTS PAGE TODAY? BIG NEWS, BOY!
HAVEN'T SEEN IT YET. WHAT HAPPENED?
SOCKER DOBBRONITZ GONNA FIGHT PALOOKA HERE FOR THE BIG ANNIVERSARY.
NO! HEY, THAT'S GREAT! HE'LL LICK PALOOKA, TOO...
REMEMBER HOW WHEN HE WORKED HERE HE'D LAUGH WHEN THE CRANE CAME BY T'PICK UP THE REAR END OF A CAR.. AN' HE'D PICK IT UP HIMSELF.
YEAH... MAYBE HE'S DUMB... BUT HE'S LAFFIN' MORE NOW. HE'S KAYOED EVERY TOP HEAVY IN THE COUNTRY EXCEPT LEVIN' AN' PALOOKA.
